BONDED WAREHOUSE ACCOUNT.

QUANTITIES of the PRINCIPAL ARTICLES IMPORTED (subject to Duty) IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1864; RECEIVED INTO, and DELIVERED FROM WAREHOUSE in the Year 1865; and REMAINING IN WAREHOUSE on 31st December 1865, at the PRINCIPAL BONDING PORTS in the UNITED KINGDOM.

IN THE YEAR

1865.

NOTE.—As inaccuracies are sometimes supposed to occur in this Account, because discrepancies appear, if the Stock remaining in Warehouse be compared with the difference between the Total Imports of an Article and the subsequent Exports and Entries for Home Consumption, the following explanations are given to show that this Account is not susceptible of verification in the manner described :

In the compilation of the Bonded Warehouse Account, every document is used which substantiates a receipt or delivery under any circumstances, and this Account therefore presents an accurate view of the Stock in Warehouse both at the commencement and termination of the period which it embraces.

The column headed “Received into the Warehouse during the Year” includes :—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another ; and under the head of “Wine” it also includes the increase of quantity caused by the addition of Spirits for the purpose of fortifying the Wine in Warehouse.

The column headed “Delivered from the Warehouse during the Year” includes :—

The Articles which, having been warehoused at one Port, were removed and re-warehoused at another.

The Deliveries of the respective Articles for Home Consumption, on payment of Duty.

The Exports of the respective Articles, less the Quantities exported on Drawback or otherwise, subsequently to the payment of Duty.

The Quantities of certain Articles delivered free of Duty for removal to the Victualling Stores of Her Majesty’s Dockyards, or for the use of the Officers of Her Majesty’s Navy and Army ; and the Quantities delivered free of Duty to be used as Ships’ Stores on board Merchant and Passenger Vessels, as shown in the Supplemental Account, p. 483.

The Quantities of Tea, Tobacco, Pepper, and other Articles taken out of Warehouse to be destroyed in cases of damage.

Under the head of “Brandy” the Quantities used in fortifying Wine in Bond.

Under the head of “Rum” the Quantities Mixed in Bond, with other Spirits, either British or Foreign, to be eventually exported under the denomination of “Mixed Spirits.”

As regards the Quantities of Articles Entered for Home Consumption, which are shown in the General Import Account, it is to be remembered that they comprise the Quantities charged with Duty, and passed into consumption immediately on their delivery from the Ship, as well as the Quantities taken out of Warehouse for Home Consumption.

PART I.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

In the arrangement of the Judicial Statistics for 1865 no change has been made from the Order followed in former years. The Tables and Forms, settled with the Approval of the Secretary of State in 1856, are continued as heretofore.

In the Returns for the local Prisons improvements have been introduced, and additional information is given, which will be found more fully adverted to under the head of Prisons.

The Returns, furnished generally with promptitude and regularity by the various Officers throughout the country, are, with one or two unimportant exceptions, complete for 1865; and the results will be found brought out in the Tables with the usual care.

The Police Statistics, with the Appeals from the decisions of Justices out of Sessions and the Coroners' Returns; the Criminal Proceedings; and the Returns from the Local and the Government Prisons, the Reformatories, and Industrial Schools, and the Returns of Criminal Lunatics, form the First Part of the Statistics.

POLICE AND CONSTABULARY.

The Returns made to the Secretary of State pursuant to the Act of the 19th and 20th Vict. c. 69, show the numbers of the Police and Constabulary Forces in England and Wales, to have been as follows in the year ended the 29th September 1865 :

Total Police and Constabulary - 23,250

The total number proves an increase of 401, or 1·7 per cent., upon the total for 1863-4. Under each of the three first heads the numbers are the same for the two years. There is an increase of two in the number of Superintendents; of 13 in the number of Inspectors; of 49 in the number of Serjeants; of 316 in the number of Constables; and of 22 in the number of Additional Constables. In the number of Detectives there is a decrease of one.

The following are the numbers composing the different Forces :—

the Force.

Constables of Boroughs appointed under the Municipal Corporation Act of 1835	-	6602,
County Constables appointed under the Constabulary Acts of 1839 and 1840	-	8,492
Metropolitan Police Constables appointed under the Police Act of 1829	-	6,784
Her Majesty's Dockyard, &c. Police (including the Military Stations)	-	723
Constables for the City of London appointed under the City Local Act of 1839	-	649
Total Police and Constabulary	-	23,250

CONSTABULARY.

In the number of Borough Constables there is an increase of 144, or 2·2 per cent. In the number of the County Constabulary, an increase of 157, or less than 2 per cent. In the Metropolitan Police an increase of 102, or 1·5 per cent. Her Majesty's Dockyard, Police, shows a decrease of two. In the numbers of the City of London Police there is no change.

Population.

The numbers of the different Police Forces for the year 1864-5 in proportion to the population of their respective Districts, were, as calculated on the census of 1861; Borough Constables, one to 787; County Constables, one to 1,371; Metropolitan Police, one to 457; City of London Police, one to 172; Total Police to total Population, one to 863; or, in proportion to the estimated Population for 1865, one to 902.

In Ireland, according to the Judicial Statistics of that country for 1864, the Proportions were one to 297 in the Metropolitan District; one to 431 in the rest of Ireland; one to 420 of the total number of Police to the total Population.

Costs of the Police,

The cost of the Police for the year, as shown in the Table under the following headings were,—

Salaries and pay - - - - -	1,323,077	17	4
Allowances and contingent expenses - - - - -	38,293	11	1
Clothing and accoutrements - - - - -	137,491	14	11
Superannuations and gratuities - - - - -	43,146	17	10
Horses, harness, forage, &c. - - - - -	35,324	1	0
Station-house charges, printing, stationery, &c. - - - - -	139,404	9	9
Other miscellaneous charges - - - - -	32,019	7	7
Total costs - - - - -	£1,748,757	19	6

In the total Costs as shown above there is an increase of 48,545*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.* as compared with the amount for the preceding year. Under each head, excepting superannuations, &c., an increase appears, amounting, under salaries and pay to 54,363*l.* 17*s.* 5*d.*, or 4·3 per cent.; under allowances, &c. to 2,226*l.* 19*s.* 2*d.* or 6·2 per cent.; under clothing, &c. to 11,787*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.* or 9·4 per cent.; under horses, &c. to 1,392*l.* 10*s.* 10*d.* or 4·1 per cent; under station house charges, &c. to 12,263*l.* 6*s.* 1*d.* or 9·6 per cent. and under miscellaneous to 2,018*l.* 11*s.* 5*d.* or 6·7 per cent. Under superannuations and gratuities the amount given above is less than the amount given for the preceding year by 35,508*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* In explanation of this decrease it is to be observed that payments made from the Police Superannuation Funds, which are formed by deductions from the pay of the men and sources other than public or local rates or funds, do not appear to be properly considered as part of the cost of the Police; and in the Returns for the different Forces for 1864-5 the amounts paid from the Superannuation Funds have been stated separately. These amounts reach the sum of 38,858*l.* 15*s.* 8*d.* which added to the amount stated above as paid from other sources shows the total amount of superannuations and gratuities for the year to have been 80,005*l.* 13*s.* 6*d.*, or higher than the amount for the preceding year by 1,350*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.*

Cost per man.

The average per man for the total number of the Police and Constabulary in 1864-5, as shown above, and in each of the six preceding years was as follows, as calculated upon the—

	Total Costs.	Salaries and Pay.	Clothing and Accoutrements.

In the amount for the Borough Police there is an increase of 5,027*l.*, or nearly 6 per cent., there having been an increase of 3,722*l.*, or 4·5 per cent., in 1863-4 upon the amount for 1862-3. The amount for the County Constabulary shows an increase of 2,879*l.*, or 2·2 per cent., following an increase of 4,839*l.*, or 3·9 per cent., in the preceding year. The amount for the Metropolitan Police shows an increase of 13,305*l.*, or 9·3 per cent., following an increase of 2,284*l.*, or 1·6 per cent., in the preceding year.

The numbers of the Criminal Classes at large, so far as known to the Police, are given in the Tables for 1864-5 under the same classification as in preceding years, the total number showing a decrease of 173, as compared with the number for 1863-4.

The Criminal Classes, (Table,
p. 5.)

With regard to the class of known thieves and depredators, the rule excluding from the Returns those who, although they may have been at some time convicted of offences are known to have been subsequently living honestly for a year at least, continues to be followed, and the number under this head for 1864-5 is less than the number for the preceding year by 525, or 2·2 per cent., and less than the average of the three years (1858-9-60) preceding the change made in the Returns with respect to those classed under this head, by 16,449, or 42 per cent.

and depredators.

In the number of receivers of stolen goods there is a decrease of 164, or 5 per cent. In the number of prostitutes there is a decrease of 546, or 2 per cent. In the number of suspected persons also, a decrease amounting to 646, or 2·1 per cent.

Receivers of stolen goods.

With regard to vagrants and tramps, the numbers were taken in the month of April instead of in September as in preceding years, and an increase is shown as compared with the number in 1863-4 amounting to 1,758, or 5·5 per cent.

Vagrants and Tramps.

The following are the numbers of the whole of these classes for each of the years 1864-5 and 1863-4, with the average of the three years 1858-9-60.

Under each class excepting vagrants and tramps a decrease appears in 1864-5. The increase in the total number of this latter class was 1,758 as stated above ; but a reference to the Table (p. 6) will show, on comparison with the number for 1863-4, that in the Metropolitan district, the increase in the number of vagrants and tramps was 3,425. For the country generally therefore, exclusive of the Metropolis, the numbers for 1864-5 are less than the numbers for the preceding year by 1,667 ; while the numbers for 1864-5 having been taken in April, the great influx of this class into London in the spring is apparent.

In the Metropolis, including the city of London, the returns for 1864-5 show an increase of 107 in the number of known thieves and depredators, and of 222 in the number of prostitutes, with a decrease of 44 in the number of receivers of stolen goods, and of 40 in the number of suspected persons. Exclusive of vagrants and tramps, and prostitutes, the increase in the number of the Criminal Classes in the Metropolis, as shown in the returns for 1864-5, is only two.

The following are the numbers of the Criminal Classes, as shown in the Returns for 1865, and their proportion to the population according to the census of 1861, in the Metropolitan Police District with the City of London, and in the different groups of towns which have been classed together for comparison in former years.

8. Seats of the Hardware Manufacture. —Birmingham, Sheffield, and Wolverhampton -	4,499, or 1 in 120·4	764, or 1 in 709·0

In the total number of the Criminal Classes in the Metropolis, inclusive of vagrants and tramps and prostitutes, as shown in the Returns for 1864–5, there is an increase of 3,645, or 27·2 per cent. as compared with the number for the preceding year, raising the proportion to the population from one in 240·2, to one in 188·8. The increase however, as already shown, is in the classes above-named. The increase in the number of prostitutes, taken separately, is 222, or 4·per cent., the proportion to the population being raised from one to 566·2, to one to 544·2.

In the pleasure towns the total numbers show a decrease of 75, or 2·6 per cent., the proportion to the population falling from one to 78·9 to one to 81·1. The number of prostitutes is less than in the preceding year by 49, or 5·0 per cent. The proportion to the population in 1863–4 was one to 231·3.

In the towns depending upon agricultural districts, also, there is a decrease both in the total number, and in the number of prostitutes taken separately, amounting for the total number to 331, and for the separate class to 126, or 20·0 per cent. in each case, and following a decrease in the numbers for 1863–4, of 115, or 6·5 per cent., and 56 or 8·1 per cent. respectively, as compared with the numbers for the preceding year. On the other hand, the numbers for the commercial ports show an increase under both heads, amounting, for the total number, to 708, or 7·7 per cent., and for the separate class to 723, or 14·8 per cent.

In the seats of the cotton and linen manufacture a decrease appears under both heads, amounting for the first to 44, or 0·7 per cent., and for the last to 61, or 3·7 per cent.

For the seats of the woollen and worsted manufactures also, the numbers are less for 1864–5, under the first head by 78, or 2·1 per cent., and under the separate class by 22, or 3·2 per cent.

For the seats of the small and mixed textile fabrics the numbers show an increase under both heads, amounting, respectively, to 52, or 2·9 per cent. and 18·0 or 3 per cent.

In the seats of the hardware manufactures a decrease appears in the total number amounting to 101, or 2·2 per cent., but an increase of 9, or 1·2 per cent. in the separate class.

Notwithstanding the increase in the numbers of the Criminal Classes generally as shown in the Returns for the Metropolis, the proportion to the population is still lower than in any of the groups of towns. It continues highest in the pleasure towns. The proportion of prostitutes to the population also continues, as in former years, highest in the commercial ports, and lowest in the seats of the hardware manufactures.

The numbers of each of these classes, as shown in the Returns for 1865, and their proportion to the population in each of the groups of agricultural counties, are as follows :

The Returns show a continued decrease in the number of houses of bad character, the total number for 1864–5 being less by 1,075, 4·9 per cent., than the number for 1863–4. The following Tables relate to the offences committed and the number and disposal of the persons charged with offences.

Indictable offences, (Table, p. 9.)

The number of indictable offences not summarily disposed of, committed in each police district, so far as known to the police, and the number of persons apprehended, with the results of the apprehensions are shown in Table 3. The following are the numbers of the crimes committed, and of the persons apprehended in each of the four periods of three months commencing with October 1864:—

CONSTABULARY.

	Crimes committed.	Persons apprehended.
October, November, and December	13,758	7,573

April, May, and June	12,353	6,904
July, August, and September	12,246	7,218
Total	52,250	29,049

In the number of offences committed there is an increase of 1,192, or 2·3 per cent. as compared with the number for the preceding year. The number of persons apprehended also shows an increase of 315, or upwards of 1·0 per cent. The proportion of apprehensions to the number of crimes committed, viz. 55·6 per cent., is lower by 0·6 per cent. only than the proportion in the preceding year, the only higher proportion having been 58·2 per cent., in 1863.

The less number of crimes and the higher proportion of apprehensions, in the summer quarters, is apparent, as in former years.

The disposal of the 29,049 persons stated above to have been apprehended for indictable offences was as follows, upon their being brought before the Magistrates:—

Disposal of the persons apprehended.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.

Total	22,044	7,005	29,049

The numbers discharged were 30·3 per cent. of the whole number apprehended, leaving 69·7 per cent. as the proportion of those against whom the offences were proved. Calculated in the same manner these proportions in the preceding year were 30·4 and 69·6 per cent. respectively.

Classification of
offences.

Stating, as in former years, the number of crimes committed, and the number of persons apprehended under the different classes of offences, and also showing the disposal of the persons apprehended in each case, the results for 1864-5 are as follows, the similar results for previous years being added for comparison.

The total number of offences against the person was 3,123; the number of persons apprehended during the year for offences of this description was 3,260. Of these 674 were discharged by the Magistrates, leaving 2,586 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. This number is in the proportion of 82·8 per cent. to the number of offences of this class reported. In the preceding year, under this class of offences, this proportion was 83·3; in 1862-3 it was 83·0; in 1861-2 it was 84·7; in 1860-1 it was 81·1; in 1859-60, 77·4; in 1858-9, 73·9.

This number is in the proportion of 39·4 per cent. to the number of offences of this class reported. CONSTABULARY.

Other offences.

56·0 per cent.; in 1862-3 it was 70·4 per cent.; in 1861-2 it was 54·3; in 1860-61 it was 49·4; in 1859-60, 38·1 per cent.

For the three remaining classes of offences, the number of offences reported amounting together to 43,298; 22,438 persons were apprehended, of whom 7,082 were discharged, leaving 15,356 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. The latter number is in the proportion of 35·4 per cent. to the total number of offences of these descriptions taken together. This proportion, under all the offences referred to, was, in the preceding year 35·0 per cent.; in 1862-3 it was 36·7 per cent.; in 1861-2 it was 36·3 per cent.; in 1860-1, 33·1; in 1859-60, 29·4 per cent.

Total offences.

As already stated, the total number of offences reported was 52,250; the total number of persons apprehended was 29,049; the total number of persons discharged on being brought before the Magistrates was 8,814, leaving 20,235 as the number against whom the evidence appeared sufficient. The latter number is in the proportion of 38·7 per cent. to the total number of offences reported. In the preceding year, this proportion, calculated on the total numbers, was 39·2 per cent.; in 1862-3 it was 40·5 per cent.; in 1861-2 it was 37·4; in 1860-1, 36·1; in 1859-60, 32·1 per cent.

Proportion of
offences reported.

The number of persons committed or bailed for trial having been 20,014, supposing 25 per cent. (about the usual proportion) of this number to be discharged or acquitted on trial, there would remain 15,011 as the number convicted. But this number is in the proportion of nearly 29 per cent. to the number of indictable offences reported. It would therefore appear that for 71 per cent. of the offences committed, or nearly three out of every four, no person is convicted.

Summary convictions.

In addition to the indictable offences reported, and the persons apprehended and disposed of in the manner already shown for such offences, 312,882 persons were summarily convicted by the magistrates. Supposing the same proportion with regard to these as in the case of the indictable offences reported, it would follow that nearly 1,100,000 offences liable to summary conviction would escape unpunished.

The total number of persons proceeded against summarily, and the number convicted and discharged respectively during the year, were as follows:—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Proceeded against	370,460	88,454	458,914
Convicted	262,214	50,668	312,882
Discharged	108,246	37,786	146,032

The number proceeded against shows an increase of 18,001, or upwards of 4 per cent. upon the number in the preceding year, following an increase of 19,050, or 4·5 per cent. in 1863-4 upon the number in 1862-3, and of 12,855, or 3·5 per cent., in the latter year upon the number in 1861-2. In the number convicted there is an increase of 12,151, or upwards of 4 per cent., upon the number in the preceding year. The convictions in 1864-5 were in the proportion of 68·2 per cent. to the total number proceeded against, the same as in the preceding year. In 1862-3 this proportion was 67·2 per cent. In each of the two preceding years 66·7 per cent. In 1859-60, 66·4 per cent.; in 1858-9, 63·6 per cent. The proportion of the males proceeded against to the total number proceeded against for 1864-5 is 80·7 per cent., the proportion of females being consequently 19·3 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 80 and 20 per cent. The proportion of males convicted to the total number convicted is 83·8 per cent.; of the females 16·2 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were 82·9 and 17·1. The proportion of the males convicted to the total number of males proceeded against is 70·7 per cent., the same as in the preceding year. The proportion of the females, 57·2 per cent. against 58·1 per cent. in the preceding year. The disparity in this proportion, with respect to the sexes, has been always remarkable.

The penalties imposed upon those convicted, stated under the same classification as in preceding years, were as follows:—

The proportion of the total number committed, as well as the proportion of all the longer sentences, is considerably lower than in the preceding year, while, on the other hand, the proportion of those sentenced to 14 days and under, which in 1863-4 was 8·9 per cent. of the total number convicted, for 1864-5 was 9·1 per cent. In the numbers sent to reformatory and industrial schools there is an increase respectively of 169 and 90, their proportion to the total numbers being higher in 1864-5 than in the preceding year. The number fined was greater in 1864-5 than in the preceding year by 8,362, the proportion to the total number convicted varying only in a slight degree.

The number of persons proceeded against in 1864-5 for the principal offences summarily dealt with by the Justices is shown in the following extracts from the Tables, under the same classification of offences as given in former years.

Offences summarily determined, (Table, p. 25.)

Under the head of stealing and attempts to steal the following are the numbers for 1864-5, under each description of offence:—

As compared with the number for the preceding year, the total shows an increase of 1,091, or 2·5 per cent. For each of the years 1863-4 and 1862-3, there had been a decrease in the offences of this class, as compared with the numbers for each preceding year, amounting respectively to 1,968, or 4·3 per cent., and 1,109, or 2·4 per cent. In the number proceeded against in 1864-5, as compared with the number in the preceding year there is a decrease under the second, and under each of the two last heads.

Larcenies by offenders under 16 years of age, it may be repeated, have been subject to summary jurisdiction since 1847; the other larcenies since 1855, and the remaining offences since 1827.

The number of persons proceeded against in 1864-5 for malicious offences and wilful damage and trespass, was as follows:—

The total number of appeals to Quarter Sessions from the decisions of Justices acting out of sessions in 1865 was 91, of which 57, or in the proportion of 62·7 per cent., were affirmed, and 34, or in the proportion of 37·3 per cent., were quashed. In the preceding year, of 103 appeals 47, or in the proportion of 45·6 per cent, were affirmed, and 56, or in the proportion of 54·4 per cent., were quashed.

Of the 91 appeals in 1865, 41 were in cases of bastardy orders, of which 31 were affirmed and 10 quashed. Deducting these, the appeals in other cases were 50, of which 26, or in the proportion of 52 per cent., were affirmed, and 24, or in the proportion of 48 per cent., were quashed. In 1864, of 68 appeals in other cases than bastardy orders, 29, or in the proportion of 42·6 per cent., were affirmed, and 39, or in the proportion of 57·4 per cent., were quashed.

The summary convictions in 1865, exclusive of those in cases of bastardy orders, were 308,933. There was, therefore, one appeal for every 6,178, and one reversal of the judgment for every 12,872 of the convictions. In the preceding year there was one appeal for every 4,367, and one reversal of the judgment for every 7,615 of the convictions. In 1863 the appeals were one for every 5,478, the reversals of judgment one for every 10,348 of the convictions.

Besides the foregoing appeals, there were 50 cases stated for the opinion of the Superior Courts of Common Law, under the Statute of the 20th & 21st Vict. c. 43. Of these cases 34 were submitted to the Court of Queen's Bench; 13 to the Court of Common Pleas, in nine of which the judgment was affirmed, and in four reversed; and three to the Court of Exchequer, in one of which the judgment was affirmed, and in two reversed.

Coroners' Returns,

With the exception of one of the divisions of the county of Essex, from the coroner of which no return has been received, and where, probably, no inquests were held, Returns have been made by each of the coroners in England and Wales in the same form for 1865 as for the preceding year, distinguishing, in the case of children of seven years of age and under, those of legitimate from those of illegitimate birth.

The number of the verdicts of murder which were in the cases of infants of one year and under are shown in the Returns, the total number of such verdicts being 175, against 203 in 1864, and 166 in 1863.

The following were the inquests held during the year, distinguished under the different verdicts:

The total number in 1865 shows an increase of 224, or less than one per cent. as compared with the number in 1864. In the number for 1864, there was an increase of 2,030, or 8·9 per cent. upon the number in 1863; in the number for the latter year, an increase of 2,166, or 10·5 per cent. upon the number in 1862. In the three years therefore there has been an increase of more than one-fifth in the number of inquests.

As compared with 1864, the increase in 1865 is 367, or 2·1 per cent, with regard to the inquests on males, and 143, or 1·9 per cent. with regard to females.

The verdicts of murder, which had risen from 221 in 1862 to 270 in 1863, show a decrease, as compared with the latter number of 43, in 1865, although still above the average of the years preceding 1863.

The number of verdicts of manslaughter is greater than in any former year; and in the verdicts of suicide also there is a considerable increase.

The following are the total numbers under each verdict, for each of the last three years, with the average of the seven preceding years:

	1865.	1864.	1863.	Average 1856-62.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Although the decrease which appeared in the number of commitments for 1864, as compared with the number for the preceding year, has not continued in 1865, the increase which has taken place in the latter year upon the number for 1864 amounts only to 108, or little more than 0·5 per cent., the number for 1865 being less than the numbers for 1863 and 1862 by 1,194, or 5·7 per cent, and 387, or 1·9 per cent., respectively.

The following are the counties in which the increase appears in 1865, as compared with the preceding year, with the amount and proportion per cent. of the increase in each county.

In Northamptonshire, Sussex, and Westmorland the numbers were the same for each year.

State of each Class of the Commitments, (Table,
p. 46.)

Comparing for 1864 and 1865 the number of commitments under each of the different classes into which the various offences are distributed in the Tables, it will be found that, notwithstanding the increase in the total number in 1865, a decrease appears in four out of the six classes of offences, and generally in the graver description of offences, the chief increase being in the offences against property without violence. In the class of offences against the person there is a decrease of 67, or 2·5 per cent.; under offences against property with violence there is a decrease of 74, or 3·6 per cent.; under offences against property without violence, the increase is 263, or about 2 per cent.; under classes 4 and 5, malicious offences against property, and forgery and offences against the currency, there is a decrease, respectively of 58, or 14·9 per cent., and 10, or 1·7 per cent.; under the sixth class, of miscellaneous offences not included in the foregoing classes, an increase appears of 44, or 6·9 per cent.; under each of these classes there had been a decrease in the number of commitments in 1864, as compared with the number in 1863.

Offences against the person.

In the commitments for murder there is a decrease of 10, or in the proportion of 14·2 per cent., following a decrease of 13, or in the proportion of 15·6 per cent., in 1864, as compared with 1863; for attempts to murder, also, a decrease of 10, or in the proportion of 29·4 per cent., appears, following a decrease of 20, or in the proportion of 37 per cent., in the preceding year. For shooting at, stabbing, &c. with intent to maim, there is a decrease of 38, or 24·2 per cent.; in the commitments for this offence there was an increase in 1864 of 19, or in the proportion of 13·7 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. The commitments for manslaughter show an increase of 93, or 41·7 per cent., but for this offence there was a decrease of 28, or 11·1 per cent., in 1864. Under concealment of the birth of infants, also, there is an increase of 10, or in the proportion of 7·5 per cent., following an increase of 16, or in the proportion of 13·6 per cent., in the preceding year. For rape, and assaults with intent, &c., there is an increase of 15 commitments, or 3·3 per cent., following an increase of 34, or 8·1 per cent., in the preceding year. The commitments for unnatural offences show a decrease of 10, or in the proportion of 23·8 per cent., following a decrease of 19, or in the proportion of 31·1 per cent., in the preceding year; for assaults to commit these offences there was a decrease of one commitment; for the more violent class of assaults, with bodily harm, there is a decrease of 111, or 14·3 per cent.; for common assaults, also, there is a decrease of 23, or 8 per cent.; for assaults on peace officers there is an increase of 22, or 8·4 per cent. The total number of commitments for assaults shows a decrease of 112, or 8·4 per cent.

The commitments for burglary show an increase of 12, or 2·5 per cent.; in 1864 there was a decrease of 41, or 7·8 per cent. as compared with the number in 1863. For housebreaking there is a decrease of 51, or 7·7 per cent.; for breaking within the curtilage of dwelling houses, and breaking into shops, warehouses, &c., and stealing, there is a decrease of 26, or 7·7 per cent., following, with respect to the number of the three last named offences taken together, a decrease in the commitments of 105 or 9·4 per cent. in 1864, as compared with the number in 1863. For robbery, and assaults to rob by persons armed, there is a decrease of 31, or 6·7 per cent.

For cattle-stealing the commitments in 1865 were 13, against 24 in the preceding year; for horse-stealing 86, against 74; for sheep-stealing 79, against 93. The commitments for the different larcenies were 11,038, showing an increase of 281, or 2·6 per cent., upon the number in 1864; for embezzlement, receiving stolen goods, frauds, and attempts to defraud, taken together, the commitments were 1,905, against 1,910 for these offences in 1864.

Offences against
violence.

For setting fire to dwelling houses or shops, persons being therein, there were three commitments in 1865, against six in each of the two preceding years; for setting fire to houses, warehouses, crops, cornstacks, plantations, &c., and attempts to commit arson, there were 220 commitments in 1865, against 231 in the preceding year; for killing and maiming cattle 27, against 23; for endangering the safety of persons on railways there were 39 commitments, this offence not having been shown separately in preceding years.

Malicious offences against property.

For forging and uttering forged bank notes there was no commitment in 1865; in 1864 there was one; in 1863 there were two; the average for the five years, 1860-64, gives 15; for the five preceding years the average is 30. For forging and uttering other forged instruments there is an increase of 44, or 12·6 per cent., in 1865, as compared with the number in 1864, but a decrease of nine as compared with the average of the five years 1860-64. For uttering and having in possession counterfeit coin the commitments were 398 in 1865, against 428 in 1864, the average for the two periods of five years, 1860-64 and 1855-59, being respectively 484 and 663.

Forgery, &c.

Under the 6th class are shown the offences against the game laws, for which there were 94 commitments in 1865, against 86 in 1864, the average of the five years, 1860-64, being 96; also offences under the Bankruptcy Act (1861), for which there were 17 commitments in 1865, against 8 in 1864, and 25 in 1863; also, attempts to commit suicide, for which there were 31 commitments, &c.

Miscellaneous.

The Courts at which persons committed or bailed for indictable offences are tried are the County and Borough Courts of Quarter Sessions, the Circuit Assize Courts, and the Central Criminal.

Courts at which tried.

The numbers at each of these courts, and the proportion per cent. of the numbers at each to the total numbers, were as follows in each of the years 1865 and 1864.

The following were the results of the proceedings against those for trial in each of the years 1865 and 1864.

	1865.	1864.

" whipping, fine, &c.	281	301
Convicted	14,740	14,726
Total committed, &c.	19,614	19,506

The number acquitted and discharged is higher in proportion to the total number for trial in 1865 than in any of the five preceding years. For 1865 it is 24·6 per cent.; for 1864, 24·3 per cent.; for 1863 it was 23·5 per cent.; for 1862, 23·3; for 1861, 24·1; for 1860, 24·4; for 1859 it was 25·0 per cent.; for 1858, 25·5.

Before the passing of the Criminal Justice Act, by the operation of which the lighter cases have been withdrawn from the Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions, the proportion of those discharged by the Grand Jury or acquitted on trial appears to have averaged little more than 21 per cent.

Sentences.

The effect of the Act of 1864, under which the sentences of penal servitude for periods of less than five years are discontinued, appears in the reduction of the number of sentences to penal servitude and the corresponding increase in those of imprisonment. The former, which in 1864 were in the proportion of 16·6 per cent. to the total number convicted, in 1865 are only 14·1 per cent., while the latter (including those sent to Reformatories) are in 1865 83·8 per cent. of the total number convicted, against 87·1 per cent. in 1864.

In the following Table the sentences of the total number convicted in 1865 are shown in detail, and in comparison with the sentences in each of the ten preceding years :—

The number sentenced to death in 1865 is the lowest upon record, and contrasts strongly with the number 40 years before. The number in 1825 was 1,036.

To the foregoing number of sentences to penal servitude for life may be added 7 capital sentences commuted. In 1864 there were 12 capital sentences commuted to penal servitude for life; and one (in the case of a female) to penal servitude for 20 years. In 1863 there were seven commuted to penal servitude for life.

The following Table shows the crimes for which the capital convictions have taken place in each of the last 10 years.

Of the 20 persons sentenced to death in 1865, eight were left for execution; of these seven were executed, and one committed suicide in prison; in 1864 there were 19 executions; in 1863, 22. Executions.

In eight of the remaining capital convictions the sentences have been commuted to penal servitude for life. In one case the sentence was commuted for a year's imprisonment with hard labour. In one case the convict has been sent to Broadmoor Asylum as insane. In one case a pardon was granted on condition of the convict (an Italian) leaving the country. In one case a free pardon was granted, the verdict not having been considered satisfactory.

The following are the particulars of the cases of the convicts left for execution:—

Central Criminal Court.—John Currie, aged 19. A private soldier in the sappers. Murder of his officer by shooting him in the barrack yard, through revenge for his being punished.

The particulars of the 12 remaining cases of capital conviction are as follows :—

Criminal Appeals,

The Crown cases reserved for the consideration of the Court of Criminal Appeal during the year 1865 are shown in a Return, prepared in the usual form by the clerk of the Court, stating the names of the persons charged, the Courts which certified the cases for reconsideration, the offences charged, and the judgment of the Court in each case.

This Court, constituted under the statute 11 and 12 Vict. c. 78, is composed of five Judges of the Superior Courts, one of whom must be one of the Chief Judges, and is empowered to revise, affirm, or amend the judgments of the Courts in which the cases are tried, on questions of law arising on convictions in the Criminal Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions and the Central Criminal Court.

Nineteen cases were submitted for the decision of the Court in 1865 (one standing over from the preceding year), being five less than in 1864. In 12 of these the conviction was affirmed; in five it was reversed; in one the case was sent back to be amended; and in one judgment was respited.

The following abstract shows the offences for which the trials took place, the Courts in which the cases were tried, and the judgment of the Court of Appeal in each case.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

The usual Return is given of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury on account of criminal prosecutions at assizes and quarter sessions, and at the Central Criminal Court, and for proceedings under the Criminal Justice Act and the Juvenile Offenders Act, showing in detail the costs for each county and borough, at assizes and at sessions, and with respect to the Metropolitan Counties, at the Central Criminal Court, and under the two Acts above-named. The number of prosecutions for each jurisdiction during the year is also shown. This Return is for the year ended 31st December 1864, being, as in former years, one year in arrear of the other matters under the head of Criminal Proceedings. Government Prosecutions.

In addition to the number of cases prosecuted at assizes and sessions and under the Criminal Justice Act and the Juvenile Offenders Act, and the amount of costs for these proceedings paid by Her Majesty's Treasury, which, as shown above, are for the year 1864, there are the Mint cases, and certain other cases prosecuted on indictment by the Solicitor to the Treasury, the number and costs of which for that year were given in the statistics for 1864, published last year, and were as follows: Mint cases 344; other cases 62. Costs of the former 3,135*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*; of the latter 3,264*l.* 4*s.* 9*d.*

Returns furnished by the Solicitor to the Treasury, for 1865, show the number of Mint cases prosecuted and brought to a conclusion within that year to have been 310, and the total costs paid by the Treasury 2,797*l.* 11*s.* 2*d.*; and the number of criminal cases 74, and the costs incurred in these cases 4,049*l.* 19*s.* 7*d.*

PRISONS.

PRISONS, &c.

In the third division of the first or criminal portion of the present volume of the Judicial Statistics, the usual information is given with regard to the local prisons, the Government convict establishments, the reformatories and industrial schools, and with regard to the criminal lunatics under detention in the different county and other asylums.

The Returns for the local prisons, the reformatories and industrial schools, and the lunatic asylums are for the year ended 29th September 1865. Those for the convict establishments for the year ended 31st March 1866, in continuation of the Returns given in the statistics of 1865.

With the exception of the City Gaol and House of Correction at Exeter, which was closed on the 30th September 1863, the names of the same prisons, 145 in number, appear in the Tables for 1865 as for the preceding year.

Under the Prisons Act 1865 the use of several of the smaller prisons is discontinued for committals, but the Act not coming into operation until 1st February 1866, the change does not affect the statistics of the present year.

In the first Table an alteration has been made in the arrangement and heading of the columns, and an additional column has been inserted in order to distinguish the numbers who, being bailed and not sent to prison before trial, have been sentenced to imprisonment and committed after trial, these classes having been hitherto included under the same heading with those for trial.

The following abstract shows the number of commitments of each description during the year, distinguishing the sexes, and the total numbers as given in the Table, with the proportions per cent. under each class of commitments, to the totals.

In the total number committed there is a decrease of 1,865, or 1·5 per cent. as compared with the number in 1863-4. In the number of males there is an increase of 200; in the number of females the decrease amounts to 2,065, or 6·0 per cent. The number remanded and discharged exceeds the number in the preceding year by 553, or 5·6 per cent. In the number for trial, and those committed on conviction not having been previously in custody, taken together (these classes having been included under the same heading in previous years), there is an increase of 275, or 1·4 per cent. In the number committed on summary conviction there is a decrease of 1,946, or 2·0 per cent. In the numbers for debt, &c., and of those for naval and military offences, also, there is a decrease, respectively, of 766, or 7·5 per cent., and 131, or 6·3 per cent. In the number for want of sureties there is an increase of 150, or 5·1 per cent. Taking together those for trial, and those committed on conviction not previously in custody, with those on summary conviction, the decrease is 1,671, or 1·5 per cent. as compared with the numbers of the corresponding classes for the year 1863-4.

The following are the commitments as shown in the Tables for each of the last five years, with the totals for those years, and for the preceding period of five years.

The number of recommitted prisoners shows a decrease of 1,228, or 2·7 per cent., as compared with the number for the preceding year. The proportion of the recommitted to the total number committed, (exclusive of debtors and naval and military offenders, and those remanded and discharged,) is 38·0 per cent.; for the preceding year this proportion was 38·5 per cent., for each of the five years preceding 1863 it was higher, for 1863 it was 37·6 per cent. Excluding the debtors, naval and military offenders, and those remanded and discharged, the recommitted males were 35·3 per cent. of the total males committed; the recommitted females 45·5 per cent. of the total females committed. In the preceding year this proportion was the same with respect to the males; with respect to the females it was 47·3 per cent.

mitments, (Table,
p. 61.)

PRISONS.

The following are the classified numbers of the previous commitments, with the proportion per cent. of each number to the total recommitted, for each sex, the greater frequency of recommitments with regard to the females being apparent.

From a column added to this Table, now for the first time, it will be seen that of the 43,964 recommitted prisoners 1,450 (1,146 males, and 304 females), or 3·3 per cent. of the total recommitted, had on some previous conviction been sentenced to penal servitude.

Ages of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

The classified ages of the total number committed, exclusive of debtors and naval and military prisoners, are shown in the following Table, with the proportion per cent. of the number of males of each age to the total number of males, and of the number of females of each age to the total number of females.

The following are the numbers of those under 12 years of age, and of those of 12 and under 16, committed in each year since 1856 inclusive, distinguishing the sexes:—

	1865.	1864.	1863.	1862.	1861.	1860.	1859.	1858.	1857.	1856.
Under 12 years of age:

The increase in the numbers of these classes, as compared with the numbers for the preceding year, is 783, or 8·6 per cent. In the proportion which these classes bear to the total commitments there is an increase of 1·0 per cent.

The increase appears chiefly in the counties of Middlesex, Surrey, and Lancaster, where the commitments of juveniles to reformatories is proportionately small. In the Metropolitan District the commitments rest chiefly with the magistrates of the police courts, while the control of the funds from which the allowances made with youths sent to reformatories lies with the county magistrates; and the concurrent jurisdiction in the matter appears to operate unsatisfactorily.

The numbers and proportion per cent. to the total commitments of each sex (exclusive of debtors, &c.) of those born in England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, the colonies, and foreign countries, are shown in the following abstract. As compared with the preceding year, a trifling increase appears in 1864-5, in the proportionate numbers born in England, Wales, and Scotland, and a similar decrease with respect to Ireland.

Birth-place of those committed, (Table, p. 64.)

Birth-place.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.

The degree of instruction of those committed during the year, with the exception of debtors and of those committed for military and naval offences, is shown in the following abstract, the sexes being distinguished, with the proportion per cent. of the males under each degree of instruction to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females.

State of Instruction, (Table, p. 67.)

Degree of Instruction.	Males.	Females.	Total.	Proportion per Cent.

Total - - -	93,615	32,423	126,038	100·0	100·0

The proportion of the total number who could neither read nor write to the total number committed is 35·5 per cent.; in the preceding year this proportion was 35·7 per cent. Of the total number of those who could read or read and write imperfectly, the proportion is 60·2 per cent.; in the preceding year it was 58·8 per cent. Of those who could read and write well it is 3·2 per cent.; in the preceding year it was 5·2 per cent. In each year the proportion of those of superior instruction was less than 0·2 per cent of the total number committed.

Under the following classification the occupations of those committed during the year (exclusive of debtors, &c.) is shown in the Table. The numbers under each class of occupation with the proportion per cent. of the males to the total number of males, and of the females to the total number of females, being as follows. The

The total number remaining in prison at the end of the year, that is, on the 29th September 1865, exceeded the number remaining at the close of the preceding year by 383, or 2·1 per cent. In the total number of debtors remaining there was a decrease of seven; the increase in the number of criminals being consequently 390.

In the Tables are shown, as given in the Returns for the past year, the number of separate sleeping cells, and also the number of certified cells in each prison, the certified cells being those which have been certified by an Inspector as fit for constant occupation by day and by night. Number of separate cells, (Table, p. 73.)

The following are the total numbers :—

Separate Sleeping Cells.			Certified Cells.
Males.	Females.	TOTAL.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
15,061	4,087	19,148	11,581	4,119	15,700

Under the Prisons Act, 1865, no cell is to be used for the separate confinement of a prisoner until it has been certified by the Inspector to be fitted in accordance with the requirements of the Act, as to ventilation, warming, &c., a distinction being allowed in respect of the period of imprisonment for which each cell is intended, whether for the whole day or for a long or short part thereof.

The greatest number of prisoners under confinement at one time, and the daily average, were as follows, for the past year :—

Greatest Number at One Time.			Daily Average.
Males.	Females.	TOTAL.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
17,957	4,803	22,400	14,334	3,827	18,161

The number of prisoners under confinement at the commencement of the year, and the number committed during the year, taken together for 1864–5, viz. 155,551, were less than the corresponding number for the preceding year by 2,535. The greatest number at one time was less by 480; and the daily average by 350.

In Table 5, a column has been added showing for each prison the number of prisoners under sentence of hard labour during the year. Number sentenced to hard labour, (Table, p. 73.)

The totals are as follows :—

Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
59,462	17,354	76,816

Under the Prisons Act 1865 hard labour is to be of the first and of the second class, the former to consist of work at the treadwheel, shot drill, crank, capstan, stone-breaking, or such other like description of hard bodily labour as may be appointed by the Justices with the approval of the Secretary of State; the latter, of such other description of bodily labour as may be in like manner appointed; and it is proposed that the capacity of each prison with respect to each description of labour, and the numbers employed, shall, as far as possible, be shown in next year's Returns.

The number of deaths and the cases of sickness in each prison are shown in the Table. The following are the total numbers for 1864–5, with the average of the numbers for each of the two periods of five years immediately preceding :— Sanitary state of the prisons, (Table, p. 73.)

PRISONS.

Cases of Sickness and Death.	1864.			Average of 5 Years.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	1864-60.	1859-55.

The total number of deaths was the same in 1864-5 as in the preceding year, seven less having occurred among the males and seven more among the females. The infirmary cases show an increase of 168, or 3·7 per cent. The cases of slight indisposition show an increase of 4,333, or 7·3 per cent. In the cases of insanity there is a decrease of two.

The deaths were in the proportion of 1 in 666 of the number of prisoners under detention during the year, the proportion among the males being 1 in 638·9, the proportion among the females 1 in 751·5. In the preceding year the proportion was 1 in 659·1, with regard to the total number; in 1862-3 it was 1 in 746·6; in 1861-2, 1 in 841·1; in 1860-1, 1 in 822·7. The infirmary cases in the past year were 1 in 34·7; in the preceding year they were 1 in 35·6. The cases of slight indisposition were 1 to 2·5; in the preceding year they were 1 to 2·7. The cases of insanity were 1 in 1,158·4; in the preceding year they were 1 in 1,129·9; in 1862-3, 1 in 1,223·7; in 1861-2, 1 in 999·8; in 1860-1, 1 in 1,167·8; in 1859-60, 1 in 896·9.

Prison Punishments, (Table, p. 73.)

The number of punishments of each description for offences committed in prison was as follows for the whole of the prisons :—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Whipping - - - -	130	—	130
Irons or handcuffs - - -	76	101	177
Solitary or dark cells - -	15,738	2,315	18,053

Other punishments - - -	—	—	—
Total - - - -	51,922	8,745	60,667

The total number shows an increase of 3,022, or 5·2 per cent., as compared with the number for 1863-4, and following a still greater increase in each of the years 1862-3, 1861-2, and 1860-1, as compared with each preceding year. In the cases of whipping there is an increase of ten. The cases of irons or handcuffs show an increase of 55, eight with regard to the males, and 47 with regard to the females.

Prison Establishments, (Table, p. 82.)

In the classification of the prison officers in the Table some change will be found to have been made, the schoolmistresses being enumerated with the clerks and schoolmasters, the number of matrons stated separately, and the distinction between upper and under warders discontinued. The following are the numbers of each class as shown in the Table:—

Rank of Officers.	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Governor and Deputy Governor - -	172	2	174
Chaplain - - - - -	143	—	143
Surgeon - - - - -	140	—	140
Clerks and schoolmasters, and schoolmistresses -	142	37	179
Matrons - - - - -	—	134	134
Warders - - - - -	1,062	219	1,281
Other subordinate officers - - - - -	307	65	372
Total - - - - -	1,966	457	2,423

In the total number there is an increase of 18, as compared with the number for 1863-4, 14 in the males and four in the females. There has been an addition of two to the number of chaplains, the remaining increase is among the subordinate officers.

The total gives 1 officer to 7·5 of the daily average number of prisoners. In 1863-4 this proportion was 1 to 7·8; in 1862-3, 1 to 8; in 1861-2, 1 to 7·7; in 1860-1, 1 to 7; in 1859-60, 1 to 6·5.

The costs of the prisons are given under the usual headings of Buildings and Establishment Charges (the details for each prison being stated in the Table), Officers, and Prisoners. The total amount for 1864-5 shows an increase of 8,827*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.*, upon the amount for the preceding year. Costs of the Prisons, (Table, p. 76.)

Compared with the averages of the preceding year, the averages for 1864-5 are slightly higher under each head, excepting prisoners' diet, in which there is a decrease of 1s. 3d. Under this head the average was lower by 11s. 6d. in 1863-4 than in the year preceding it. The above averages of 30l. 15s. 3d. and 24l. 3s. 3d. are higher than the corresponding averages for 1863-4 by 1l. 1s. 2d. and 15s. 5d. respectively.

The foregoing are the average costs per prisoner calculated on the total amount under each head of expenditure, and the total daily average number of prisoners, in all the prisons. The highest average cost per head in separate prisons will be found at Alnwick County Gaol and House of Correction, viz. 108l. 2s. 5d., against 88l. 15s. 11d. in the preceding year, with a daily average of one prisoner for each year; at Oakham County Gaol and House of Correction, viz. 87l. 1s. 9d., with a daily average number of prisoners of 8, against 80l. 11s. 2d. in the preceding year, with a daily average number of prisoners of 10; at Tiverton Borough Gaol and House of Correction, viz. 77l. 10s., against 51l. 11s. 7d. in the preceding year, with a daily average number of prisoners of 4 for each year; at York County Gaol and House of Correction, viz. 71l. 19s. 1d., with a daily average number of prisoners of 62, against 78l. 12s. 8d., with a daily average number of prisoners of 58 in the preceding year; and the lowest at Salford County House of Correction, viz. 14l. 13s. 11d., with a daily average of 584 prisoners, against 14l. 13s. 6d., with a daily average of 575 prisoners, in the preceding year; at Kingston-upon-Hull Town Gaol and House of Correction, viz., 14l. 15s. 10d., with a daily average of 167 prisoners, against 16l. 7s. 6d., with a daily average of 149 prisoners, in the preceding year; at Falmouth Borough Gaol, viz. 15l. 13s. 11d., with a daily average of 12 prisoners, against 26l. 3s. 1d. in the preceding year, with a daily average of 7; at Devonport Borough Gaol, viz. 16l. 19s., with a daily average of 61 prisoners, against 16l. 4s. 8d. in the preceding year, with the same daily average.

The Returns furnished by the Chairman of the Directors of Convict Prisons are for the year ended the 31st of March 1866, in continuation of the Returns given in the Statistics of 1865, and show the number of convicts under detention in each of the convict prisons at the commencement of the year, that is, on the 1st April 1865, the number received in each prison, inclusive of the removals between the convict prisons, during the year commencing at that date, the number disposed of during that year, and the number remaining in custody at the close of the year, that is, on the 31st March 1866.

The prisons, eleven in number, are the same as those named for the preceding year, viz., Pentonville and Millbank, used for the imprisonment of convicts in separate confinement under the first stage of discipline, the former being for male convicts only, the latter for both males and females; Chatham, Portland, and Portsmouth for the convicts employed on public works, undergoing the second stage of discipline; Broadmoor, the prison for lunatic convicts, where a certain number of convicts are at present employed on the prison works; Dartmoor and Woking for invalids; and Brixton, Fulham, and Parkhurst for females undergoing the second stage of discipline.

The following are the numbers for the whole of the prisons as shown in the Returns for 1865-6, with the total daily average in the year:—

CONVICT PRISONS. decrease in the total number being 64, or 2·0 per cent. In the number removed to the colonies there is an increase of 364, or 75·6 per cent.

The number discharged on termination of sentence is less by 32, or in the proportion of nearly 15 per cent., than the number for the preceding year. In the number discharged on tickets-of-leave there is a decrease of 221, or 10·5 per cent., with respect to the males, and an increase of 49, or 14·5 per cent., with respect to the females, the decrease on the total being 172, or upwards of 7 per cent. The number remaining at the end of the year shows a decrease of 243, or 4 per cent., with regard to the males; of 172, or 13·5 per cent., with regard to the females; and of 415, or 5·7 per cent., in the total number. The daily average was less by 419, or 6·8 per cent., with respect to the males; by 62, or 4·8 per cent., with respect to the females; and by 234, or 3·1 per cent., in the total number.

The total gross expenditure for the 10 prisons (the expenses of the convicts employed at Broadmoor being included in those for Woking) for the year ended 31st March 1866, shows a decrease of 11,454*l.* 3*s.* 7*d.*, or 4·6 per cent., as compared with the amount for the year ended 31st March 1865. In the gross annual charge per prisoner there is a decrease of 10*s.* 2*d.*

Deducting from the gross total expenditure the amount received for rent of officers' quarters, the sale of old stores, &c. viz., 2,981*l.* 10*s.* 10*d.*, and 5,659*l.* 1*s.* 5*d.* the amount of productive labour paid over to the Exchequer, making together 8,646*l.* 12*s.* 3*d.*, the net total expenditure for the 10 prisons will be 227,132*l.* 9*s.* 2*d.*, giving 31*l.* 12*s.* 4*d.* as the net annual cost per prisoner. For the preceding year the net annual cost per prisoner was 31*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.*

In addition to the convicts in confinement in the Government prisons, as shown above, there were on the 1st April 1865 734 male convicts under detention in local prisons, under contract with Government. Returns for these prisons are given in the tables arranged in the same manner as the Returns for the convict prisons. The following abstract shows the number and disposal of the convicts in each of these prisons during the year:— Convicts in Local Prisons. (Tables, pp. 90–1.)

The contracts with the first five named having ceased, and the convicts being removed to the Government prisons, there remain only Taunton and Wakefield in which convicts are now confined under contract.

The following extract from the Returns shows the cases of sickness, the punishments for prison offences, and the costs of the convicts during the year, with regard to each of these prisons :—

The above sum of 19,894*l.* 3*s.* 7*d.* is the gross cost, inclusive of a proportion of the salaries of the prison officers, and the whole of the expenses of the convicts. From this is to be deducted 136*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.*, rent of officers' quarters, and 2,337*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.*, the produce of labour paid over to the Exchequer, making together 2,337*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.*, and leaving 17,556*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.* as the net expense of the convicts for the year. The annual charge per prisoner, calculated on the gross amount, is 34*l.* 19*s.* 3*d.*; calculated on the net amount, 30*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.*

Adding together the numbers remaining in custody in the Government and the local prisons, the total number of convicts undergoing penal servitude in England on the 31st March 1865 appears to have been as follows, in comparison with the number for the preceding year :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.

To the list of reformatory schools given in the statistics of 1864, for all of which Returns have been made for the year ended the 29th September 1865, is added the "Clarence" Hulk at Liverpool, for which, although certified in August 1864, no Return was made in that year. The number of schools certified under the statutes of the 17th and 18th Vict. c. 86 and 19th and 20th Vict. c. 109, which for the years 1863 and 1864 was 51, is thus raised to 52 for 1865, the latter number having appeared also in the list for 1862, but not having been reached in any previous year.

The total number of offenders committed to these schools since the passing of the first above-mentioned statute,—the age at which commitments may be made being limited to under 16 years—is 10,124, 8,280 males, and 1,844 females, giving an average of 844, 690 males and 154 females, for each year. The number committed during the year ended the 29th September 1865 was 1,185, exceeding by 178, 164 males and 14 females, or 17·6 per cent., the number in the preceding year, and exceeding the average of the 11 years preceding 1864 by 373, 296 males and 77 females, or 45·9 per cent.

The following were the terms of detention of the 1,185 offenders committed in 1865:—

Of the total number, 261, or 22 per cent., were committed after conviction on indictment; 924, or 78 per cent., upon summary conviction. The proportions in the preceding year were 25·4 per cent. on indictment; 74·6 per cent. on summary conviction. In 1865, 86·5 per cent. of the whole number were committed for larcenies and attempts to steal; 4·5 per cent. for housebreaking, shopbreaking and burglary; these proportions having been in the preceding year 88·3 per cent. for larcenies, &c., and 3·7 per cent. for housebreaking, &c.; the remaining commitments in each year were for various offences, including unlawful possession of goods, fraudulent offences, embezzlement, horse stealing, sheep stealing, robbery on the highway, arson, and wilful burning, wilful damage and other malicious offences, assault, forgery, vagrancy, &c.

The disposal of the offenders in custody in the reformatories, or committed during the year, was as follows:—

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

The number of males in the reformatories at the commencement of the year is in excess of the number shown in the preceding year as remaining in custody by 62, in consequence of no Return having been made in 1864, as above mentioned, for the Clarence Hulk, where that number is shown in the Return for 1865 to have been in custody at the commencement of the latter year.

The total number under detention during the year 1865 exceeded the number in 1864 by 190, 4·2 per cent. The total number discharged was less by 12 in 1865 than in 1864. The number discharged by order of the Secretary of State was less by 270, or upwards of 5 per cent. The number discharged in 1865 on completion of the term of sentence exceeded the number in the previous year by 48, or nearly 10 per cent. Fewer by nine escaped in 1865; and fewer by 12 were committed to prison; the number of deaths also was less by two. The proportion of the deaths to the total number under confinement, which, in 1864 was 7·1 in 1,000, was in 1865 less than 6·4 in 1,000. The number remaining in custody at the end of the year shows an increase of 140, or 4·3 per cent., taking into account the 62 in the Clarence Hulk at the end of year in 1864.

Previous commitments.

The following are the classified numbers of the previous commitments to prison of the offenders committed to the reformatories in 1865 :—

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.
Once	354	45	399
Twice	119	13	132
Thrice	54	1	55

Seven times and above five times	—	4	4
Ten times and above seven times	—	—	—
Total	553	74	627

Of the total number committed to the reformatories during the year 52·9 per cent. had been previously more or less frequently committed to prison, leaving 47·1 per cent. as the proportion of those who were sent to the reformatories on their first conviction. In the preceding year these proportions were respectively 52·8 and 47·2 per cent., in 1863 they were 47·8 and 52·2 per cent. Of those who had been previously in prison, 27, or 4·4 per cent., were 10 years of age or under; 48, or 7·7 per cent., were between 10 and 11 years of age; 86, or 13·8 per cent., between 11 and 12; 105, or 16·9 per cent., between 12 and 13; 165, or 26·5 per cent., between 13 and 14; 148, or 23·8 per cent., between 14 and 15; and 43, or 6·9 per cent., between 15 and 16. Of those who had not been previously in prison, 25, or 4·4 per cent., were 10 years of age or under; 61, or 10·8 per cent., between 10 and 11; 92, or 16·4 per cent., between 11 and 12; 114, or 20·3 per cent., between 12 and 13; 130, or 23·1 per cent., between 13 and 14; 111, or 19·7 per cent., between 14 and 15; and 30, or 5·3 per cent., between 15 and 16.

Ages and Instruction.

The following table shows the ages and the state of instruction, when received into the reformatories, of those committed in 1865 :

	Aged 10 and under.	11.	12.	13.	14.	15.	16.
Neither read nor write:
Males	33	50	94	84	107	97	10

Females	—	1	—	5	11	—	3

Of the males committed during the year, 50·8 per cent. could neither read nor write; 35·9 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; and 10·2 per cent. could read and write well. In the preceding year these proportions were 52·2 per cent. who could neither read nor write; 42·7 per cent. who could read or read and write imperfectly; and 5·1 per cent. who could read and write well. Of the females in 1865, 43·3 per cent. could neither read nor write; 46·4 per cent. could read or read and write imperfectly; and 8·9 per cent. could read and write well; of three the state of instruction was not ascertained. In the preceding year the proportions were 53·8 per cent. who could neither read nor write; 35·2 per cent. who could read or read and write imperfectly; 8·5 per cent. who could read and write well, with a few whose state of instruction was not ascertained.

The total amount payable by Her Majesty's Treasury for the year on account of the reformatory was 48,505*l.* 15*s.* 1*d.*, being more than the amount for the preceding year by 1,198*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.*, or 2·5 per cent. The sum of 2,318*l.* 6*s.* 7*d.* was recovered from the parents in diminution of the expenses, this sum exceeding the amount recovered in the preceding year by 62*l.*, or 2·7 per cent.

The Middlesex Industrial School at Feltham, established under a local Act of the 17 & 18 Vict., is used for the reception of male offenders only, the commitments are made, whether after trial or on summary conviction, without the offenders being subjected to previous imprisonment in gaol, and are limited to periods of not less than one year, or more than three, and to offenders under 14 years of age.

Middlesex Industrial School,

During the year ended the 29th September 1865, 216 commitments were made, being a higher number than in any previous year since the opening of the school. Of the 216 commitments, 27, or 12·5 per cent., were after trial; 189, or 87·5 per cent., on summary conviction; four were committed for two years or under; the remaining 212 for the full term of three years. 145, or 67·1 per cent., of the commitments were for larceny; 41, or 19 per cent., were for vagrancy; 11, or 5 per cent., for unlawful possession of goods; the remainder for various offences. In the preceding year 78 per cent. of the committals were for larcenies; 8·5 per cent. for vagrancy.

Of the offenders committed in 1865, 50·5 per cent. were above 13 years of age; 20·8 per cent. were 13, or above 12; 13 per cent. were 12, or above 11; 8·8 per cent. were 11, or above 10; and 6·9 per cent. were under 10. Of 88, one parent was dead; of 16 both parents were dead; nine had been deserted by one parent; one by both parents; of four, one of the parents was in prison; 91 were under the control of one parent only; 103 of both parents; 160, or 71·3 per cent., of the number committed could neither read nor write; 52, or 24 per cent., could read or read and write imperfectly; and only four could read and write well; 48 had been once previously committed to prison; 10 twice; one thrice; and one four times; 156, or 72·1 per cent., had not been previously in prison.

At the commencement of the year there were 554 offenders in custody, which, with the 216 committed, and one re-admitted after absconding, gives 771 as the number under confinement during the year. Of these 16 were discharged by order of the Secretary of State, and 196 on completion of their terms of detention; one absconded and was not retaken; one was committed to prison for refractory conduct; and one died, leaving 556 remaining in custody at the end of the year; being an increase of two upon the number at its commencement.

The cost per head was 24*l.* 17*s.* 0½*d.*, showing an increase of 1*l.* 17*s.* 2*d.* upon the amount for the preceding year. The amount recovered from parents was 401*l.* 1*s.* 9*d.*, against 882*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* in the preceding year.

In the table for the year ended the 29th September 1865, the names of 31 schools (inclusive of the Havannah Ship at Cardiff), certified under the Industrial Schools Acts, will be found, being two more than the number for the preceding year. Schools at Franklin's Row, Chelsea, at Sunderland, at Birkenhead, and at Broomfields, near Bradford, are added to the list; while the North-western Industrial Home and the school in York Street, Westminster, which were included in last year's list, are now omitted.

The number of children under detention at the commencement of the year, that is, on the 30th September 1864, was 858, 600 males and 218 females, including those returned from the Boys' Home, Euston Road, whose time, it is stated, is not yet expired, and who were omitted in last year's Return. 421, 323 males and 98 females, were committed during the year, in addition to which number three were received from reformatories, and two were re-admitted after desertion, making a total of 1,284, 968 males and 316 females, who were under detention in these schools during the year. Of this number 182 males and 40 females were removed or discharged, and four males and four females died, leaving 1,054, 782 males and 272 females, under detention on the 29th September 1865.

The number of committals during the year exceeded the number in the preceding year by 81, 47 males and 34 females, or nearly one fourth (23·8 per cent.) The number remaining at the end of the year was greater by 199, 145 males and 54 females, or 22·6 per cent., than the number at the end of the preceding year.

Of the total number under detention during the year five per cent. were under eight years of age at the time of their commitment; 9·5 per cent. were eight and under nine; 15·8 per cent. were nine and under 10; 20·8 per cent. were 10 and under 11; 19·7 per cent. were 11 and under 12; 15·2 per cent. were 12 and under 13; 11·7 per cent. were 13 and under 14; and of 2·3 per cent. the ages are not stated.

The total costs for the children during the year, so far as given in the Returns, was 15,493*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.*, exceeding the amount given in the Returns for the preceding year by 648*l.* 0*s.* 6*d.* The amount received from parents, as shown in the Returns, was 985*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.* In the preceding year it was 398*l.* 9*s.* 3*d.*; in 1863 it was 153*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.*; in 1862, 7*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.*

LUNATIC
ASYLUMS, (Tables,
pp. 95-6-7.)

In the tables for the year ended 29th September 1865, two new Lunatic Asylums, viz. the Glamorganshire County Asylum and the Newcastle-upon-Tyne Borough Asylum, are given for the first time, while Bellevue House, at Devizes, and the Medway Union Workhouse, in each of which the single criminal lunatic confined died during the year 1864, are omitted from the list. The number of asylums, hospitals, and licensed houses in which criminal lunatics are under detention, viz. 63, therefore continued the same for 1865 as for the preceding year.

In the following abstract the number and disposal of the criminal lunatics under detention in the whole of the asylums, hospitals, and houses during the year is shown.

	Males.	Females.	TOTAL.

Total -	240	34	274

The number under detention at the commencement of the year, that is, on the 30th September 1864, was greater by 79 than the number at the commencement of the preceding year. The number committed during the year shows a decrease of 27, or 17·8 per cent., as compared with the number committed during the year ended 29th September 1864, and of seven, as compared with the number committed in 1862-3.

LUNATIC
ASYLUMS.

For the year commencing the 30th September 1855, the first year for which a statement of the number of criminal lunatics is given in the Statistics, the number at the commencement of the year was 565, upon which the number at the commencement of the past year shows an increase of 43·9 per cent.

The number received in the different Asylums, &c., during the year 1855-6 was 121, upon which the number received during the year 1864-5 shows an increase of 28·8 per cent.

In the number of deaths during the year 1864-5 there was an increase of 23, as compared with the number in the preceding year. In 1863-4 the deaths were one in 31; in 1864-5, one in 20 of the whole number under detention. The number remaining under detention on the 29th September 1865 shows an increase of 24 upon the number at the close of the preceding year. Upon the number for the year 1855-6 the increase for 1864-5 amounts to 435, or 42·1 per cent.

The offences with which the lunatics under detention during the year were charged are stated in the table under 26 different heads; the largest number under one head, 290, or 22·2 per cent. of the whole, being for larceny and petty thefts; 177, or 13·5 per cent., were for murder; 152, or 11·5 per cent., for attempts to murder; 51, or 3·9 per cent., were committed as vagrants; 86, or 6·5 per cent., for want of sureties; of 114, or 8·7 per cent., the offences are not stated; a few cases appear of fraud, forgery, receiving stolen goods, &c.; but of the whole the greater proportion is of a violent character.

In the following abstract are shown the original judgments or orders under which the lunatics in custody in 1864-5 were detained, with the proportion per cent. which the numbers under each head bear to the whole.

Judgments or Orders.	Number.	Proportion per cent. to whole Number.
Found insane	188	14·4
Acquitted insane	238	18·2
Insane, committed by Justices	86	6·6
Dangerous lunatics, committed by Justices	3	0·2
Convicts becoming insane after trial, and removed by order of the Secretary of State	791	60·6
	1,306	100·0

which charged,

which detained.

Compared with the preceding year, the proportion per cent. of those found insane was less in 1865 by 0·6; of those acquitted insane it was higher by 0·8; of those committed by justices as insane, and of those committed as dangerous lunatics, it was, in each case, less in 1865 by 0·1; of those becoming insane after trial, three-fifths of the whole number, it was less by 0·6.

The number under each period of detention, and the proportion per cent. borne by each number to the whole, are as follows:—

	Number of Persons.	Proportion per cent. to whole number.
One year and under	197	15·1
Two years and above one	189	14·5
Three years and above two	166	12·7
Five years and above three	209	16·0
Ten years and above five	264	20·3
Fifteen years and above ten	130	9·9
Twenty years and above fifteen	73	5·6
Above twenty years	78	5·9
	1,306	100·0

Of those who had been one year or less in custody, the proportion in 1865 was lower by 1·8 than in the preceding year; of those who had been two years and above

CRIMINAL
LUNATICS.

Costs, (Table,

one, it was higher by 1·7, of those who had been 20 years, the proportion was the same in each year; for the remaining periods the variation in the proportion was inconsiderable.

Compared with the amount for the preceding year, the total costs of the Criminal Lunatics for the year 1864-5 show an increase of 401*l.* 8*s.* 6*d.* Under county rates and parish rates there is a decrease, respectively, of 74*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.*, and 554*l.* 13*s.*; under borough rates there is an increase of 149*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.* The amounts chargeable on the Public Revenue and on private funds also show an increase, respectively, amounting for the former to 839*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* and for the latter to 41*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* The expenditure for Broadmoor Asylum amounted to 26,499*l.* 12*s.* 10*d.*, inclusive of large sums for the outfit of the asylum and farm, but not including the cost of the erection of additional buildings. This amount exceeds the expenditure shown for the preceding year by 7,428*l.* 14*s.* 1*d.* At Bethlem Hospital two criminal lunatics still remain, one male and one female, the costs for the two amounting to 111*l.*

The following are the amounts chargeable to each of the different funds from which the costs are defrayed, with the total charge for the year, and the proportion per cent. which each amount bears to the total, for the whole number of criminal lunatics:—

County Rates	4,495	11	9	9·1
Borough Rates or Funds	1,315	17	0	2·7
Parish Rates	4,963	6	7	10·1
Public Revenues	36,019	2	1	73·0
Private Funds	2,517	14	5	5·1
Total	49,311	11	10	100·0

In the preceding year the proportions were:—

Amount charged on the county rates 9·3 per cent. of the total amount; on borough rates or funds 2·4; on parish rates, 11·3; on the public revenue 71·9; on private funds 5·1 per cent.

In the county asylums the highest average cost per head appears in Derbyshire, viz. 29*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* being less than the average for that county for the preceding year by 1*s.* 7*d.* and the same amount as for 1863. The lowest average, 16*l.* 4*s.* 8*d.*, is for Essex. In the preceding year the lowest average was 15*l.* 11*s.* 8*d.*, for Dorsetshire.

The average for the 37 county asylums (Glamorganshire not being included) is 22*l.* 11*s.* 11*d.*, or one shilling less than for the preceding year.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REMARKS.

The Returns for all the Courts of Civil Jurisdiction are complete for 1865, and afford similar information to that given for the preceding year, with some additional matter under the Court of Probate.

In the preliminary Report the usual summaries of the business in 1865 are given for each of the different Courts, with the totals for 1864, and, generally, the average of five years, for comparison.

The Returns furnished by the different officers of the Courts of Common Law for the year 1865 will be found abstracted in the Tables and arranged in the same form as in preceding years. In the first Table are shown certain of the proceedings of the Court of Queen's Bench on the Crown side, as given in the Return made by the Queen's Coroner and Attorney and the Master on the Crown side. The Return shows the processes issued and the matters heard by the Court in Banco, and those by a single judge in each of the four terms; but it is explained by the Queen's Coroner and Attorney, and the Master, that the casting of the several columns will not give any adequate notion of the total proceedings, inasmuch as the same matters appear more than once in the same column, and that the real amount of total proceedings is as given below. The nature of the offences tried on the Crown side is stated to be conspiracies, perjuries, assaults, nuisances, and other misdemeanors, and occasionally, but very rarely, felonies. But the trials take place at Nisi Prius in London and Middlesex, and at the Assizes in the other counties, and no record is kept in the Crown Office of the number of cases, or of the number of persons tried, except where the sentences are passed by the Court in Banco, which very seldom occurs now, as the sentences are, by virtue of Statute 4 G. IV. and 1 W. IV. c. 70, almost invariably passed by the judge at Nisi Prius and not afterwards entered upon record, except in certain cases of acquittal and of conviction, and in cases where fines are imposed. In 1865 there were six cases of acquittal, and two of conviction in which judgment was entered up in the Queen's Bench, and one case, that of the Midland Railway Company, in which the sentence was "fined 1s."

COMMON LAW
COURTS,
(Tables pp. 1 to 9.)

The real amount of the total proceedings for 1865, as stated by the Queen's Coroner and Attorney, and the Master, is as follows, the corresponding numbers for 1864 being given for comparison, and the average of the five preceding years.

It is not possible, it is stated, to give a correct account of the amount of costs taxed, inasmuch as the bills of costs are not only often withdrawn from taxation when partly taxed, but when completed are sometimes taken away by the attorneys and not returned to the office.

Fees in the Crown
Office.

The total amount of fees received in the Crown Office, exclusive of business done for the public departments for which no fees are received, was 625*l.* 9*s.* 10*d.*, which includes all the fees received at the office, not only in respect of the different items specified in the Return, but also for other duties, as writs of subpœnâ ad testificandum, copies of proceedings, &c. This amount exceeds the amount for the preceding year by 47*l.*, or in the proportion of 7·5 per cent. This is higher than the amount for 1863 by 18*l.*, or 2·8 per cent., but less than the average of the five preceding years by 30*l.*, or 4·5 per cent.

Plea side.

The form of procedure in the three Superior Courts of Common Law being similar, the chief proceedings in each court, as given in the returns for 1865, furnished by the Masters, are shown in the following summary. The totals for the three courts, of the matters under each heading, are given for 1864, and the average of the totals for the five preceding years.

It will be seen that a great increase has taken place both in the amount of business and in the amount of fees. The total number of writs of summons issued in 1865 is in excess of the number in the preceding year by 5,939, or 5·2 per cent., and of the average of the five years by 18,748, or 18·6 per cent. The increase extends to each of the three courts, but in the greatest degree to the Court of Queen's Bench. As compared with 1864, the increase in the number of writs of summons issued is, in the Court of Queen's Bench, 2,996, or 8·7 per cent.; in the Court of Common Pleas

1,589, or 4·9 per cent.; and in the Court of Exchequer 1,354, or 2·9 per cent. In the amount of fees the increase is, in the Court of Queen's Bench 2,005*l.*, or 8·2 per cent.; in the Court of Common Pleas 1,054*l.*, or 5·6 per cent.; and in the Court of Exchequer 1,822*l.*, or 6·8 per cent.

COMMON LAW
COURTS.

The number of bills of costs taxed in the Court of Queen's Bench in 1865 is stated to have been, between party and party, 6,678, and under Statute 6 & 7 Vict. c. 73, 1,494. No Return was given under this head for the Court of Queen's Bench for the year 1864; nor is any Return given of the number of bills taxed in the Court of Common Pleas. The number in the Court of Exchequer for 1865, exclusive of bills taxed under the statute, but inclusive of 2,107 taxed under the Sheffield Waterworks Act, 1864, was 10,392. In 1864 the number, exclusive of bills taxed under the statute, was 7,692.

Bills of costs taxed.

The Returns furnished by the Associates of the three Superior Courts of Common Law have been made to show for 1865 the number of remanets from the preceding year for trial at the commencement of the year, and also the number at the close of the year. The following abstract of the Returns made by the Associates, and by the Clerks of Assizes and Clerks of the Crown, gives the number of causes entered for trial and the number of trials, both at Westminster and on Circuit, for each of the three Courts for 1865, with the totals for the preceding year, and the average of the totals for the five years 1859-63. The number of remanets from the previous year is given for 1865, with regard to the Courts at Westminster, and the number of causes withdrawn, struck out, &c., with the remanets at the close of the year with regard both to the Courts at Westminster and to the Circuits.

The Returns furnished by the Masters of the three Superior Courts, after stating the number of causes entered for trial, the number of writs of capias, and the number of appearances entered for each quarter of the year, next show the number of judgments, under the different terms, as given in the following summary, in the causes tried at Westminster, and in those on Circuit, without distinction. It rests with the parties for whom verdicts are given at Nisi Prius to make application for the return of the issues into the Courts at Westminster, and in some cases a compromise is made after the verdict, and no further proceedings appear.

The judgments being subject to revision by the Courts sitting in Banco, on motions for new trials, or to enter or alter verdict, or for nonsuit, or arrest of judgment, or non obstante veredicto, the Returns made by the Masters show that there were applications of this nature in each of the Courts, with the following results, in 1865; the number of cases under each decision in the preceding year and the average of five years being stated for comparison.

Issue of the proceedings.

A considerable increase has been shown to have taken place in the number of writs of summons issued in 1865, and also in the appearances entered. In the proportion of the appearances entered the increase is greater still.

In 1864 the appearances entered were 26·6 per cent. of the number of writs of summons issued; in 1865 they were 28·3 per cent., being a higher proportion than in any of the preceding years. In 71·7 per cent. of the cases commenced in 1865, against 73·4 per cent. in 1864, therefore, the claims appear to have been settled without further proceedings than the issue of the writ of summons, except in so far as where judgment may have been obtained in default, of which cases the number appears to have been 4,539, or one in eight of the appearances entered.

COMMON LAW
COURTS.

On the whole, it may be remarked that upwards of 119,000 cases occurred within the year, of sufficient importance to come within the jurisdiction of the Superior Courts, in which it was found necessary to have recourse to the law; while in less than one third of the number was any show of defence offered.

Of the 33,723 cases in which appearances were entered only 2,956, or less than one in 12, were entered for trial. Of the number entered for trial 1,347, or little more than 1 per cent. of the cases commenced, were tried (this proportion being lower than in the preceding year), and of these 21 per cent. were undefended.

Testing the issue of the suits by the judgments obtained, the result is as follows. The number of cases in which judgments were obtained in 1865, under the different forms of procedure, was, as already shown, 38,440, leaving 80,657, or 67·7 per cent., as the number and proportion of the suits commenced in which no proceedings were taken beyond the writ of summons. Upon this calculation the proportion was the same in the preceding year.

For the enforcement of the judgments 27,468 writs of execution were issued under the different forms shown above, or in the proportion of 71·4 per cent. of the cases. In 1864 this proportion was 69·9, in 1863, 70·4, per cent.

Of the writs in 1865, 69·6 per cent., against 69·1 in 1864, were to levy on the goods; 28 per cent., against 28·3 in 1864, were against the person; 1·5, against 1·6 per cent. in 1864, for possession after recovery in ejectment; the remainder under the different forms above shown, with little variation in the proportions between the two years.

The number of remanets in each of the three Courts at the commencement and at the end of the year, as shown in the Returns furnished by the Associates, were as follows:—

	Court of Queen's Bench.	Court of Common Pleas.	Court of Exchequer.
At commencement of the year	95	127	16
At the end of the year	127	164	13

The Returns furnished by the chamber clerks show the business in the chambers of each of the Judges of the three Superior Courts of Common Law. In the following summary, the totals of the proceedings in the chambers of the five Judges of each Court are given under the different headings for 1865, and the totals under each heading, for all the chambers; with the totals for 1864, and the average of the totals for the five years 1859-63. A comparison of the totals shows a considerable increase in the number of the proceedings under almost every head in 1865.

Revenue business,

The sittings in Banco in the Court of Exchequer in the year 1865, relating to business on the revenue side of the Court, are shown, as in preceding years, in a Return furnished by the Queen's Remembrancer, and were as follows, viz.: six motions in Court, and 69 motions (without argument) touching legacy and succession duties; one judgment on English Information argued in 1864, the decree being for the Crown, and one special case in which the decision was for the appellant.

On the 9th of November the customary ceremony takes place of the presentation of the Lord Mayor of London to the Barons of the Court of Exchequer; and on the morrow of Saint Martin (12th November), on the assembling of the Council in the Court of Exchequer, the nomination of the Sheriffs for England and Wales takes place.

COUNTY COURTS,
(Table, pp. 10, 11.)

The proceedings in the County Courts in the year 1865 for the recovery of debts, the proceedings under the Charitable Trusts Act of 16th and 17th Vict. c. 137, and the proceedings under the Act of 20th and 21st Vict. c. 85, for the protection of wives deserted by their husbands, are stated in the Table in the usual form for each of the 59 County Court circuits, as abstracted from the Returns furnished by the County Court Treasurers. Cases in which decrees have been given in County Courts relative to probate and administration of wills appear in the Returns furnished by the Registrars of the District Courts of Probate.

In the following abstract are shown the number of plaintiffs in the whole of the County Courts, and the totals under each heading in the Returns with reference to the recovery of debts for the year 1865, in comparison with the numbers for the preceding year, and with the average of the five years 1859 to 1863, inclusive.

In 1865 there were 15 appeals, against 10 in the preceding year, 15 in 1863, and 12 in 1862. There were 27 orders to stay proceedings, against, 25 in 1864, 41 in 1863, and 47 in 1862. There were 70 cases of certiorari to remove proceedings, against 88 in 1864, 68 in 1863, and 81 in 1862.

The number of days of sitting during the year for the whole of the circuits was 7,592, which, calculating on the number of causes determined, gives an average of 57.1 causes for each day of sitting. The number of days of sitting varies from 85 on circuit No. 5 to 280 on circuit No. 6. The average number of causes determined on each day of sitting varies from 20 on circuit 55 to 132 on circuit No. 5.

The number of complaints entered shows an increase of 44,368, or 6 per cent., upon the number in 1864; but is less than the number in 1863 by 16,405, or upwards of 2 per cent.

The proportion borne by the number of causes determined in Court to the total number of complaints entered is 55.4 per cent., leaving 44.6 per cent. as the proportion of those settled out of Court. Little variation appears in these proportions from year to year; in 1864 they were respectively 54.4 and 45.6 per cent.; in 1863, 55.3 and 44.7 per cent.

Of the judgments given 96.2 per cent., against 95.9 per cent. in 1864, were for the Plaintiff; 1.9 per cent., against 2.1 per cent. in 1864, were nonsuits; 1.9 per cent., against 2.2 per cent. in 1864, were for the Defendant. For 1863 these proportions were 95.9, 2.11, and 2.0 per cent. The number of debtors imprisoned gives one for 123 of the number of complaints entered. For 1864 the proportion is one to 113; for the average of five years the proportion is one to 95.

The total amount for which complaints were entered shows an increase of 86,726*l.*, or 5.0 per cent., above the amount in 1864, and of 8,361*l.* above the amount in 1863; but is less than the average for the five years 1859-63 by 83,847*l.*, or 4.3 per cent. The average for each complaint entered is 2*l.* 7*s.* 2*d.*

The amount of debts for which judgment was obtained is only half (50.2 per cent.) the total amount for which complaints were entered. In 1864 the proportion was 55.7 per cent.

The amount of costs shows a continued decrease. The amount of fees was higher by 13,034*l.*, or 5.3 per cent., than the amount in 1864, but less by 5,525*l.*, or upwards of 2 per cent., than in 1863.

The costs and fees together give an average of 13*s.* 7*d.* for each cause determined, against 14*s.* 1*d.* in the preceding year. For each of the years 1865 and 1864 the cases in which judgment was obtained for 40*s.* and under were 69.1 per cent. of the total number of cases determined.

Fifty-three warrants were issued for the arrest of absconding debtors, the number having been the same in the preceding year. In three cases bail was given in each of the years 1865 and 1864. In 12 cases in 1865, against seven in 1864, the debt and costs were paid; and six of the warrants in 1865, against seven in 1864, were suspended. Three matters were heard and three orders made under the Charitable Trusts Act, the numbers having been two in the preceding year. Under the Act of the 21st & 22nd Vict. c. 85 protection orders to wives deserted by their husbands were registered in 470 cases; in seven cases the orders were discharged. In the preceding year 590 orders were registered. The number of orders in the five years 1859-63 gives an average of 599.

In 1864, in nine of the 33 local Civil Courts of ancient jurisdiction named in the Table no proceedings took place. In seven of the same nine Courts there were no proceedings in 1865; in the two remaining of the nine, viz., the Borough Court of Pleas at Clitheroë, and the Borough Court of Lancaster, there were three cases only; two at Clitheroë for amount of 5*l.*, and one at Lancaster for 14*l.* The total number of proceedings commenced in the whole of these courts in 1865 was 27,194, against 28,411 in 1864, showing a decrease of 1,217, or 4.3 per cent., and following a decrease of 2,376 in the two preceding years, as compared with the number in 1862.

COUNTY COURTS.

BOROUGH, HUNDRED, AND MANORIAL COURTS,
(Table, p. 12.)

MANORIAL
COURTS.

The total amount for which proceedings were commenced in all the Courts in 1865 was 308,800*l.*, being less than the amount in the preceding year by 63,080*l.*, or 16·9 per cent.

The total amount of debt for which judgment was obtained was 112,375*l.*, being less than the amount in the preceding year by 20,501*l.*, or 15·4 per cent.

The total amount of costs was 16,786*l.*, being less than the amount in the preceding year by 1,153*l.*, or 6·4 per cent. The total amount of fees was 10,646*l.*, being less than the amount in 1864 by 401, or 3·6 per cent. The amount of costs and fees together was 24·4 per cent. of the amount of debt recovered. In 1864 it was 21·8, in 1863, 26·0, in 1862, 25 per cent. of the amount of debt recovered.

COURT.

The proceedings in the Lord Mayor's Court of London are shown in a Return furnished by the Registrar of the Court in the usual form; the proceedings being distinguished under the heads of Proceedings of the Court in Actions, and Proceedings of the Court in Foreign Attachment.

In the number of actions a continual increase appears. The number entered in 1865 was 5,006, being an increase of 283, or almost 6 per cent., upon the number in 1864, following an increase in the preceding years, respectively, of 398, or 9·2 per cent., in 1864 upon the number in 1863; of 216, or 5·3 per cent., in 1863 upon the number in 1862; and of 179, or 4·5 per cent., in 1862 upon the number in 1861. There were also nine ejectments and nine apprentice petitions in 1865, against 11 and 10 in 1864.

The total amount for which actions are entered also shows an increase from year to year. The amount in 1865 was 125,451*l.*, being an increase of 1,882*l.*, or 1·5 per cent., upon the amount for 1864, the increase for the three preceding years having been respectively 20,489*l.*, or 19·8 per cent., in 1864 upon the amount in 1863; 12,561*l.*, or 13·9 per cent., in 1863 upon the amount in 1862; and 10,435*l.*, or 13·0 per cent., in 1862, upon the amount in 1861.

Of the actions, 36, or 0·7 per cent., were for amounts under 5*l.*; 1,401, or 28·0 per cent., for 5*l.* and under 10*l.*; 2,164, or 43·3 per cent., for 10*l.* and under 20*l.*; and 1,405, or 28·0 per cent., for 20*l.* and above.

Other proceedings of the Court are shown under the headings of orders to stay proceedings, judgments, verdicts, executions, certiorari, judgment summonses, and committals.

STANNARIES COURTS, (Table,
pp. 13, 14.)

The return furnished by the Registrar of the Court of the Vice-Warden of the Stannaries shows the proceedings of the Court in equity and common law, and for the winding-up of incorporated and unincorporated companies under the Joint Stock Companies Act and the Companies Act, 1862, and proceedings not in any cause, during the year 1865.

The proceedings in equity are given for each of the counties of Cornwall and Devon, the totals showing generally an increase as compared with those for the preceding year. The proceedings under the common law jurisdiction, extending only to the county of Cornwall, and few and unimportant in themselves, show a great decrease.

In the proceedings for winding up companies, which apply to both counties, an increase appears, generally, in the number of the proceedings and in a greater degree in the amounts affected.

Under proceedings not in any cause one case only appears in the county of Cornwall.

The details under each head, as given in the Return, will be found stated in the Table.

In the General Return for the year ended 11th October 1865, framed by the Chief Registrar of the Court of Bankruptcy and laid before Parliament pursuant to the Bankruptcy Act, 1861, all matters, judicial and financial, within the Act are shown for the year. The matters stated in the Return are given in the Tables of the Statistics in the same form for 1865 in which they have appeared for the preceding years.

The following, as taken from the Tables, are the numbers of adjudications in bankruptcy under each form of procedure in each of the Courts during the year :—

Number of Adjudications of Bankruptcy.	London District Court.	Country District Courts.	County Courts.	Total.	Number of adjudications.
On Petition of a Creditor -	292	399	78	769
On Petition of the Debtor -	2,062	1,103	2,772	5,937
By Registrars at the Prisons	385	180	526	1,091
On Petitions in formâ pauperis -	308	8	184	500
On Judgment Debtor Summonses -	6	2	—	8
Total -	3,053	1,692	3,560	8,305

The total number shows an increase of 981, or 13·3 per cent., as compared with the total for 1864, but is less by 165 than the number in 1863. The increase in 1865 above the number in the preceding year extends to each form of procedure except judgment debtor summonses. In the number of adjudications on petition of a creditor it amounts to 174, or 29·2 per cent.; on petition of the debtor to 677, or 12·8 per cent.; in the number by Registrars at the prisons to 187, or 20·6 per cent.; in the number on petitions in formâ pauperis to 44, or 9·6 per cent. In 1864 there were nine adjudications on judgment debtor summonses. It extends also to each of the Courts, amounting for the London Court to 742, or 32·1 per cent.; for the Country District Courts to 155, or 10·0 per cent.; and for the County Courts to 184, or 5·4 per cent.

The number of adjudications where the debts exceeded, and the number where they did not exceed, 300*l.* were as follows :—

Where the debts of the bankrupt exceeded 300 l.	1,870	1,663	200	3,733
Where they did not exceed 300 l.	1,183	29	3,360	4,572

Of the former, the total number is in the proportion of 44·9 per cent. to the total number of adjudications; of the latter, of 55·1 per cent. In the preceding year these proportions were 41·1 and 58·9 per cent.

COURT OF CHANCERY,
(pp. 17 to 21.)

For the High Court of Chancery the usual returns have been made by the different officers of the Court, from which the proceedings in their respective offices and the amount and state of the business in each branch of the Court may be seen, as well as the great value of the property dealt with.

In the Return made by the Registrars the proceedings awaiting a hearing at the commencement of the year, those set down during the year, those heard or otherwise disposed of during the year, and those awaiting a hearing at the end of the year, are shown, the business in each of the three Appellate Courts and in each of the four original Courts being distinguished.

In the following abstract the total number of the proceedings under each heading, for disposal, and disposed of, with the remanets, are shown for each of the years 1865 and 1864, with the average of the totals for the five years preceding 1864:

Average of Totals, 1859-63	422		2,131		1,952		161		439

A comparison of the totals shows a decrease of 179 in the number of the proceedings for hearing at the commencement of the year, and the number set down for hearing in 1865, taken together, and of 147 in the number heard or otherwise disposed of, 32; the difference between these numbers consequently representing the decrease in the number remaining for disposal at the end of the year.

The proportion borne by the number of proceedings disposed of to the number for disposal, viz., 81·3 per cent., was the same in each year. Compared with the average, both the number for disposal and the number disposed of were highest in 1865; the proportion borne by the number disposed of to the number for disposal was highest by 0·5 per cent. with regard to the average.

The Registrars' Return shows also the number of orders made in different matters as given in the following abstract for 1865, the numbers under each head being added for the preceding year and the average for the five years.

	1865.	1864.	Average, 1859-63.
Orders made on the hearing of Petitions under the Winding-up Acts	69	35	16
Orders made on the hearing of Petitions of Right	—	1	—

Certificates for Sale or Transfer or delivery of Stock or other securities	3,021	3,122	2,948
Amount of fees levied by stamps	£13,448	£13,630	£12,814

Under each of the foregoing heads a decrease appears in 1865, except in the orders on hearing of petitions under the Winding-up Acts, the number of which was, less one, double the number in 1864. As compared with the average of five years, there is an increase in 1865 under every head.

The Return further shows the number of cases standing for judgment at the commencement and at the end of the year, which were respectively 14 and 9: in the preceding year these numbers were reversed. Five cases less, therefore, remained at the end of the year in 1865 than in 1864.

The number of days each of the Judges sat in Court, as shown in the Return, was as follows: The Lord Chancellor 79: the Lords Justices 122: the Master of the Rolls 150: the three Vice-Chancellors respectively 171, 163, and 170. In 1864 the numbers were, the Lord Chancellor 60: the Lords Justices 148: the Master of the Rolls 154: the three Vice-Chancellors 167, 166, and 169. The total number of days was less in 1865 by nine. In neither year were there any sittings by the Lord Chancellor and Lords Justices. On filing his bill the Plaintiff may select the branch of the Court to which his suit is to be attached; but the Lord Chancellor has power to transfer any cause from the paper of any of the Vice-Chancellors to that of any other of the Vice-Chancellors; and the Lord Chancellor and the Master of the Rolls can transfer any cause to or from the paper of any of the Vice-Chancellors from or to that of the Master of the Rolls. The number of causes, &c. thus transferred from each Judge to other branches of the Court was 115 in 1865, against 102 in 1864. The Judges and the Courts to and from which transferred are shown in the Return for 1865.

There was one cause tried with a jury, and one without a jury; one cause for trial with a jury, and one for trial without a jury, awaiting a hearing at the end of the year. There were 344 cases referred to the counsel of the Court, against 367 in 1864.

The number of orders drawn up in the Registrar's Office was 12,231, and the total amount of fees collected thereon by stamps was 13,448*l.* 15*s.* In the preceding year the number of orders was 12,356; and the amount of fees 13,630*l.* 10*s.*

The total of the proceedings in the chambers of the Master of the Rolls, and of each of the three Vice-Chancellors, as shown in the Returns furnished by the respective Chief Clerks, were as follow for the year ended 1st November 1865, in comparison with the proceedings in 1864, and with the average of the totals for 1859-63.

The proceedings in each of the chambers separately for 1865 are given in the Table.

PRINTED BY ALEXANDER THOM, 87 & 88, ABBEY-STREET,

FOR HER MAJESTY'S STATIONERY OFFICE.

STATISTICS OFFICE, FOUR COURTS, DUBLIN,

28th July, 1866.

MY LORD,

I have the honour to transmit, for the information of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, the Judicial and Criminal Statistics of Ireland for the year 1865, being the third year for which the Statistics have been collected and compiled.

In accordance with the expectations held out last year, all the preliminary difficulties in completing the Police Statistics have been overcome, and they are now in entire accordance with the corresponding Statistics for England and Wales.

The Coroners' returns are more complete than in either 1863 or 1864, and arrangements have been made for having the Coroners supplied with forms for recording, as each inquest is held, the necessary details.

The statistics of the Juror Sessions have been again collected, but some of the local officers have omitted to make the necessary returns.

Further improvements have been introduced in the Prison Statistics, and the tables for 1865 have (except one table as to Bridewells) been made up from original returns transmitted to this Office, instead of being, as in former years, compiled from information collected in the Office of the Inspectors-General of Prisons. This important change has enabled the tables to be constructed so as to compare, as closely as circumstances would admit of, with the corresponding Statistics for England and Wales.

Difficulties have been again experienced in collecting the Statistics of Lunatics and Insane Persons confined as criminals in asylums. Now that the earlier tables have been all settled, the cause of these difficulties will be made the subject of special inquiry before the forms for 1866 are issued, so as to bring this branch of the statistics up to the same degree of completeness as the other tables in the first part.

The tables of Statistics as to proceedings in the Courts of Chairmen of Counties and Recorders used for 1863 and 1864, having been found too elaborate to secure adequate returns, they have been much simplified, and the Statistics of these Courts, so far as obtained for 1865, are in a more complete and compact form.

Advantage was taken of the passing of the Civil Bill Courts Procedure Amendment Act (Ireland), 1864, to recast the Table of Civil Bill Executions; and although returns have not been made by some of the Sub-Sheriffs, the information so far as obtained is much more satisfactory.

Some new tables have been added as to the Landed Estates Court, giving an account of portions of the business of that Court not previously returned, in forms similar to those used for the corresponding branches of the business of the Court of Chancery.

The officers of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland have again made default in making returns.

A new table has been introduced, to show the proceedings of the Ecclesiastical Courts for part of the year 1865, under the new constitution and practice established by the Ecclesiastical Courts and Registries (Ireland) Act, 1864.

The tables showing the business transacted by the Official Assignees in Bankruptcy and Insolvency, which were wanting in the volume for last year, have been compiled in this Office, for the year 1865, from the returns made by the Official Assignees, but not published by Parliament.

From all these circumstances it appears that the present volume is more complete than either of the preceding ones; and I have to represent to His Excellency the continued promptness with which the various officers have, with few exceptions, made the required returns, and the readiness with which explanations and answers to queries have been supplied.

I have the honour to be, my Lord,

Your obedient servant,

W. NEILSON HANCOCK.

The Right Hon. Lord NAAS, M.P.,
Chief Secretary for Ireland.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

CONSTABULARY AND POLICE.

CONSTABULARY
AND POLICE.

The Police Establishments in Ireland are of three kinds : the Constabulary of Ireland, the Dublin Metropolitan Police, and the Local Force in Towns.*

Of these forces, the Constabulary of Ireland extends to towns as well as to counties, and so corresponds to the whole County Police and part of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales, and the Police Force in her Majesty's dockyards ; the Dublin Metropolitan Police corresponds to the London Metropolitan Police ; and the Local Force in Towns corresponds to the remaining part of the Borough Police Force in England and Wales.

The total Police Force, as shown by the returns, is as follows :—

There has been a considerable reduction in the establishment of the Constabulary of Ireland in 1865 as compared with 1864, from 12,146 to 11,649, or of 497, being upwards of 4 per cent.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police and in the Local Force there has been no substantial change in numbers.

The Local Police in Ireland and the Constabulary bear very different proportions to the County and Borough Police in England and Wales, as appears from the following summary :—

* Some account of the origin of these forces is given in the Judicial Statistics for Ireland, 1863.

Borough Police,	.	.	.	.	6,458	28·27
					22,849	100·

In order to understand the difference it should be borne in mind that in Ireland the chief towns which are, with one or two exceptions, counties of cities or of towns, and as such have the local tax called county cess, were included in the original Barony Police Force, and are now included in the Irish Constabulary. The only towns which had, up to 1865, a purely local force of any extent were Belfast and Londonderry, and these are the only two towns of the same size in Ireland which are not counties of cities or of towns; and in consequence of the Belfast riots in 1864, and the report of the Commissioners to inquire into them, the Local Police Force in Belfast has been abolished, and will not appear in future years, and a new force in connexion with the Constabulary of Ireland substituted, the Borough of Belfast, however, paying a higher contribution out of the local taxes than other parts of Ireland.

In instituting a comparison between the Police Forces of Ireland and of England and Wales, the Irish Constabulary and Local Force may be compared with the English Police in Counties, Boroughs, and Dockyards; and the Dublin Metropolitan Police may be compared with the London Metropolitan Police and the City of London Police added together.

The Police Force in 1865 gives for all Ireland the proportion of 1 to every 435 of the population in 1861.

In the Dublin Metropolitan Police district the Police Force is 1,089, which, with 45* Local Force added, makes 1,134 in a population of 335,449, as returned by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, or 1 to every 296.

The proportion of Police to population in the London district is 1 to 440; in the rest of England and Wales (exclusive of London district), 1 to 1,085; and in all England and Wales, including London district, 1 to 878.

The total cost of the Police Establishments in Ireland, as returned in 1865 and 1864, is as follows:—

* Not including four Inspectors of Nuisances in Blackrock, Dalkey, and Pembroke Townships, costing £97 in the year.

It appears from a comparison of these tables that there is a marked difference in the number and division of cost of the Irish and English Police.

The proportion of Police to population in Ireland, 1 to 435 in all Ireland, 1 to 296 in the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, and 1 to 448 in the rest of Ireland, are much larger than 1 to 878, the proportion in all England and Wales, 1 to 440 in the London District, and 1 to 1,085 in the rest of England and Wales.

There is an entirely different rule established as to the proportion in which the costs of the Police are paid from the local and general taxes in the two countries. This different rule has arisen in part from the more centralized government of the Irish Constabulary, in part from its semi-military character, and in part from special arrangements made for compensating the landed interest in Ireland on the repeal of the Corn Laws in 1846.

In connexion with the continuance of this division of contribution the numerous not-strictly-police duties of the Irish Constabulary, stated by Sir Henry Brownrigg, late Inspector-General, in his note to the Judicial Statistics of 1863, are worthy of notice—viz. :—the discharging the duties of the late Revenue Police; the taking of the Agricultural Statistics annually, and the Census decennially; the serving and collecting notices and polling papers for the election of poor law guardians; the escorting convicts and prisoners; the executing of Loan Fund warrants; the supervision of convicts on ticket-of-leave; and the acting as inspectors of weights and measures.

Number and cost

of Police.

The following table shows the excess in number and in cost of the Irish Police beyond the English proportion of Police to population :—

NUMBER OF IRISH POLICE IN EXCESS OF ENGLISH PROPORTION, WITH COST.	Number and Cost of a part of the Police in Ireland, in same propor- tion to population as in corres- ponding District in England and Wales in 1864. Total, .	5,800	339,008 5 2	13,327	766,686 19 2	7,527	427,678 14 0

It appears from this table that the 13,327 Police in Ireland are 7,527 in excess of 5,800, the number in the same proportion to population as in England and Wales in 1864. It also appears that the entire cost of the Irish Police, £766,686 19s. 2d., is £427,678 14s. in excess of £339,008 5s. 2d., the sum which the Police would cost if the force were in the same proportion to population as in England and Wales in 1864.

Extent of relief in Ireland from Irish rate of payment for Police.

The following table shows the extent to which the local taxation in Ireland is relieved by the Irish rate of contribution, with regard to the part of the Police that is in the same proportion to population as in England and Wales :—

RELIEF OF LOCAL TAXATION IN IRELAND FROM IRISH RATE OF CONTRIBUTION.	Number and Cost of a part of the Police in Ireland, in same propor- tion to Population as in England and Wales, in 1864. It appears from these tables that the entire cost of the 7,527 Police in Ireland, which are in excess of the English proportion of Police to population, amounting to £427,678 14s., is paid for out of the general taxes. It further appears that if the contribution from the local taxes for a force in a similar proportion to population were in the same proportions for the Metropolis and the rest of the country respectively in Ireland as in England the amount of local contribution would be £262,694 19s. 1d. instead of £68,072 15s. 3d., showing that the actual relief which Ireland obtains from the general taxes from the Irish rule of contribution for this part of the force is £194,622 18s. 3d. per annum.

Criminal classes
54-58).

The number of criminal classes is shown by the fourth of the Constabulary and Police Tables, arranged under the same heads as the corresponding English returns. The information was collected on the same plan as in England and Wales for 1864, and the 14th of September was taken as the night of observation for vagrants and tramps.

In consequence of the difference in the Poor Law and in the law as to Industrial Schools in both countries, the vagrants and tramps are kept distinct from the other criminal classes in the following comparative table :—

The preceding table exhibits a decrease in the criminal classes other than vagrants and tramps, as compared with 1864; but I have again to notice the increase in the number of juvenile delinquents, especially amongst vagrants and tramps, and also a very large increase in the number of those above 16 years of age.

The following table shows the total number of criminal classes in Ireland for the year 1865, compared with the corresponding classes in England and Wales for 1864.

This table exhibits a very satisfactory result, that although the number of police in Ireland is double the number in a corresponding portion of the population of England and Wales, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the police is less than one-half, being 11,444 as compared with 22,923 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864.

In vagrants and tramps under 16 years of age the proportion is reversed, being 3,475, or nearly double 1812, the number in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864. In connexion with this subject the total absence of Industrial Schools in Ireland should be borne in mind, whilst there were in certified Industrial Schools in England and Wales at the end of the year 1864, no less than 1,409, or 381 in a portion of the population of England and Wales corresponding to Ireland.

During the past Session the law as to Industrial Schools has been consolidated for England and Wales by statute 29 & 30 Vic., c. 118; but this valuable code of laws, commencing in the year 1854 by statute 17 & 18 Vict., c. 86, and amended by successive enactments, after 10 years' experience, has not yet been extended to Ireland. The continuous increase in the number of juvenile delinquents, which I have had to notice for three years, would appear to indicate the necessity of this extension to Ireland. The actual number in Industrial Schools in England and Wales does not account for the whole excess of juvenile delinquents, for if 381, the proportion already referred to, be deducted from 1,663 it still leaves 1,282 to be accounted for. The more favourable state of affairs in this respect in England and Wales is partly to be ascribed to the indirect effect of the Industrial Schools Acts (in operation for 10 years) in reducing the number of juvenile delinquents not actually in the schools. The rest of the excess in this class must arise to a large extent from the same causes that produce the excess in Ireland of vagrants and tramps above 16 years of age. As one of these causes, it is impossible to overlook the very marked difference in the laws which regulate the relief of the poor in Ireland and in England and Wales. The Irish law being much more stringent than the English law with regard to women and children, the effect is shown by the relative numbers relieved in Ireland and in England and Wales.

The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland, amounting to 1,203, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in 1865-66, was 52,121 in Workhouses, and 10,040 out-door, or 62,161 in all, being 212,157 less than 274,318, the number in receipt of relief in 1864 in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.*

The houses of bad character, as ascertained by the police, in 1865 and 1864 are compared in the following table :—

HOUSES OF BAD CHARACTER.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Houses of receivers of stolen goods,	981	985	—	4
Houses, the resort of thieves and prostitutes,	1,221	1,394	—	173
Brothels and houses of ill-fame,	569	633	—	64
Total (except Tramps' lodging-houses),	2,771	3,012	—	241
Tramps' lodging-houses,	3,778	3,627	151	—

This table exhibits a progressive decrease in the number of houses of bad character, except tramps' lodging-houses; but the increase in the number of tramps' lodging-houses is what might be expected from the larger number of vagrants and tramps already referred to.

* The mean number of paupers of all classes (including children) at one time in receipt of relief in England and Wales in 1864 was 1,014,978, viz.:—133,761 in-door, and 881,217 out-door. The workhouse relief in Ireland is 15,970 above the number in the corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864, and the out-door is 228,126 less.

Houses of bad

The following table gives the result of a comparison of the number of houses of bad character in Ireland in 1865 with those in England and Wales in 1864.

Tramps' lodging-houses,	3,778	5,879	1,589	2,189	—

In this table the houses of bad character (except tramps' lodging-houses) in Ireland appear to be much fewer than in England and Wales, the houses of ill-fame and brothels being 569 as compared with 1,917 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864. The excess in tramps' lodging-houses is connected with the increase already noticed with respect to vagrants and tramps.

The following summary gives a comparison of the proportions of the criminal classes to population on the same plan as in the statistics for 1864 :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.
Dublin Metropolitan Police district,	2,889 or 1 in 116	1,115 or 1 in 301
Counties of Antrim (including towns of Belfast and Carrickfergus),
Armagh, Down (linen trade and agriculture),	2,363 or 1 in 367	710 or 1 in 1,222
Provinces of Munster and Connaught (agriculture),	9,517 or 1 in 256	805 or 1 in 3,028
Ireland,	23,603 or 1 in 246	3,457 or 1 in 1,677

To judge whether these proportions are satisfactory or not, I add the corresponding proportions for England and Wales :—

	Criminal Classes (including Prostitutes).	Prostitutes separately.
The Metropolis,	1 in 260	1 in 566
Pleasure towns,	1 in 79	1 in 231
Commercial ports,	1 in 117	1 in 220

Midland counties,	1 in 172	1 in 2,036
All England and Wales,	1 in 172	1 in 714

In order to ascertain the entire number of the criminal classes, it is necessary to add to those at large at any time those in confinement. Total criminal classes.

The following tables exhibit an estimate of the Irish criminal classes, except those in reformatories, in 1865, as compared with 1864, and with the corresponding number in the English statistics for 1864 :—

Total,	27,906	142,070	38,397	—	10,491

It appears from this table that the number of the criminal classes in Ireland in prison and at large (27,906), are less numerous by 10,491, or 27 per cent., than 38,397, the number of the corresponding classes in an equal population for England and Wales in 1864.

Indictable offences (not disposed of summarily), (Tables 5-7, pp. 59-66).

The number of crimes returned by the Police and the number of persons apprehended in Ireland were as follow :—

INDICTABLE OFFENCES NOT DISPOSED OF SUMMARILY.	Crimes Returned.	Persons Apprehended.
January, February, and March,	2,270	1,356
April, May, and June,	2,364	1,699
July, August, and September,	2,724	2,104
October, November, and December,	2,408	1,559
Total,	9,766	6,718

The apprehensions were in the proportion of 68·8 per cent. to the number of crimes returned. In England and Wales in 1864 the apprehensions were in the proportion of 56·2 per cent. to the number of crimes returned, which is stated to have been a higher proportion than in any preceding year; and the apprehensions in Ireland were higher than this high proportion.

The statistics of crimes and apprehensions are compared with the corresponding statistics of England and Wales for 1864 in the following tables :—

* In this table the number in Bridewells in Ireland is not included: the number, however, is small, and is more than counterbalanced by the omission of the numbers in Industrial Schools in England and Wales, and the number of military prisoners and debtors in the local prisons in England and Wales.

I have again to notice the maximum of crime in Ireland in July, August, and September, whilst in England and Wales the maximum is in October, November, and December.

The indictable offences returned by the Police for 1865 and 1864 are compared in the following table:—

Whilst the above table shows a general decrease from 10,865 to 9,766, there appears to be an increase in the number of murders, but the Police statistics as to murder do not agree with the Coroners' statistics as noticed in the next page.

As the heads of the annual Police returns were not framed to include treason and the other offences connected with it, special forms were sent to the Police.

The following is a summary of the special returns received:—

The characteristics of Irish crime indicated by this summary correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being malicious offences against property, riots, assaults inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

In offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. This arises in part, no doubt, from the much larger quantity of property to tempt thieves in England and Wales, and the much less proportion of police to population, there being only one-half the number of policemen to population in England that there is in Ireland.

In the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, as also in unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, in perjury, and in attempts to commit suicide.

The Police statistics as to murder show 58 in Ireland, as compared with 36 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864; but the Coroners' statistics, which as to the character of crime affecting life appears to be more reliable than those returned by the Police, show 70 verdicts of wilful murder in Ireland, and 168 in England and Wales outside Middlesex, besides 99 verdicts of wilful murder of children under one year of age in Middlesex alone, or 267 in all. This gives 72 as the number of murders in a portion of the population in England and Wales equal to that of Ireland, so that there is no excess of murder in Ireland.

The following summary gives the number of infanticides and other murders in Ireland, according to the Coroners' Returns, as compared with the corresponding statistics in England and Wales. It appears from this summary that there is an excess of infanticides in England and Wales, and of other murders in Ireland, there being 55 verdicts of infanticide in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864, for 39 in Ireland, and 31 verdicts for other murders in Ireland as compared with 17 in England and Wales in 1864.

The Census Commissioners ascertained that the number of children under one year of age in Ireland to the rest of the population was, in 1861, as 2·4 to 97·6, or in other words, that in every 200 of the population, about 5 are infants under one year of age. It follows from this that the number of murders of infants under one year of age which would correspond to the 31 murders appearing to have taken place by the Coroners' Returns amongst the rest of the population, would be less than one a year; being only '74, or about 3 in four years. The number of infanticides (39) is therefore about 52 times the number of murders occurring amongst the same amount of the population at other periods of life on an average.

In England and Wales the proportion of those under one year to those above one year of age is 3 to 97; it follows, therefore, that the number of infanticides which would correspond to the 64 murders of persons above one year of age would be 2 in one year. The actual number (203) would appear to be about 100 times the number occurring amongst the same amount of population in England and Wales at other periods of life on an average.

The amount of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries is very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries before different Coroners in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice to affect the excess of infanticide which they indicate.

The offences determined summarily in 1865 and 1864 are compared in the following table :—

In this summary the chief unfavourable feature is the increase in the cases of drunkenness, common assaults, and assaults on Peace Officers.

There was a slight increase in other offences, caused by the Fenian conspiracy; the numbers are indicated in the following summary:—

TREASONABLE AND SEDITIOUS OFFENCES IN 1865 RETURNED UNDER THE FOLLOWING HEADS IN PRECEDING TABLE.	High Treason.	Treasonable Felony.	Sedition.	Attempts, and Ad- ministering Treasonable Oaths.	Using Seditious Language.	Defacing Proclama- tions.	Total.

Total offences determined summarily,	233,879	119,165	114,714	—

The first four classes in the preceding table are the only classes therein that are certain to include offences which might be made the subject of indictment, and it appears that these minor cases of Indictable Offences (determined summarily) indicate the same characteristics as the table of graver cases (not determined summarily)—the number of such offences is 21,257, being 3,289, or 13 per cent. less than the number in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864; there is also less of theft, and of crimes of the low moral tone indicated by aggravated assaults on women and children than in England and Wales; on the other hand there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

In the less serious offences the chief excess is under the following heads—drunkenness, offences against Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, Local Acts, and Nuisances Acts and common assaults. Thus if the excess in offences not classed, 13,967, be deducted from the entire excess, 118,003, the difference, 104,036 is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads, viz. :—

Drunkenness,	56,922
Offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, &c.,	35,877
Offences against Local Acts and Nuisances Acts,	2,421

CONSTABULARY
AND POLICE.

With respect to offences against the above Acts of Parliament, the Irish Police acting as Inspectors of weights and measures, and as a Revenue Police, would naturally lead to greater vigilance in enforcing these Acts, and the much larger proportion of police to population in Ireland than in England and Wales would also lead to greater activity in the detection and punishment of minor offences, especially as the Justices have power to award one-third of the penalties, the usual punishment for such offences, to the Constabulary reward fund.

This inevitable effect of the large proportion of Police in Ireland is illustrated by the statistics as to Prostitutes. Thus, while it appears from the Police Tables that the number of Prostitutes known to the Police in Ireland in 1865 was 3,457, as compared with 7,593 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864, there were 4,427 charges against Prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1865, as compared with 2,007 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864.

The number of offences against the Poor Law Acts in Ireland in 1865 for deserting families and disorderly conduct in Workhouses is only 761, as compared with 1,962 in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864.

The following summary exhibits the result of the proceedings in cases determined summarily :—

	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.

Thus it appears that in the case of offences determined summarily, the convictions were 83 per cent. of the persons proceeded against. This is a higher proportion of convictions than in England and Wales in 1864, where the per-centage of convictions is 68·2.

The penalties imposed on those convicted are stated under the same classification as in the English statistics, and the proportions of the different punishments are compared with the corresponding proportions in England and Wales in the following summary :—

CONSTABULARY
AND POLICE.

It appears from this summary that the punishments of a trifling character bear a higher proportion in Ireland to the total punishments than in England and Wales, whilst the proportional number of serious punishments is much less in Ireland, indicating that a large part of the excess in the case of offences determined summarily in Ireland is to be found amongst the offences of a less serious character.

Character of Persons proceeded against (Table 11, pp. 75-79).

Total of Ireland,	240,597	469,502	126,892	113,705	—

It appears from this summary that 16·9 per cent. of the persons proceeded against were of characters unknown to the police, whilst in England and Wales 35·3 per cent. of those proceeded against were unknown. This arises in part from the much higher number of police in proportion to the population in Ireland than in England and Wales, already noticed, and in part from the greater number of foreigners, and greater aggregation of the people in cities and towns in England than in Ireland.

In Ireland 66·2 per cent. of those proceeded against were of previous good character, whilst in England and Wales only 35·6 per cent. were of this class. It appears that whilst the total excess of persons proceeded against in Ireland over those proceeded against in an equal population in England and Wales was 113,705, the excess of persons of previous good character proceeded against was 114,185. These figures afford further indications of the less serious character of a large part of the offences disposed of summarily in Ireland.

INQUESTS.

Coroners' Returns (Table, p. 80).

The returns which have been obtained from the Coroners show the number of inquests to have been 3,188—2,205 on men and boys, and 983 on women and girls. In England and Wales, in 1864, the number was 24,787—17,199 on men and boys, and 7,588 on women and girls. This would give the proportion to be expected in Ireland as 6,699, showing that the inquests in Ireland are less than one-half the number held in an equal population in England and Wales.

It appears however that of the 71 verdicts of murder returned by Coroners 39 were of children under the age of one year, and 32 were other murders, showing a great excess of infanticide as already noticed in connexion with the Police statistics as to murder.*

The returns show the cost of the inquests to be £8,195 15s. 11d., and the average cost of each inquest to be £2 11s. 5d., whilst in England and Wales it is £2 18s. 7d.

Cost of Criminal Prosecutions (Table, p. 87).

An account of the sums paid by Her Majesty's Treasury for criminal prosecutions at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, and at the Dublin Commission Court, and proceedings at Petty Sessions, Inquests, and Police Courts, has been made up from returns received from the Crown Solicitors in Ireland, and from the County and City Treasurers. The Crown Solicitors' returns show the number of prosecutions conducted by the Crown Counsel and Crown Solicitors at Assizes and at the Dublin Commission Court, and the costs, exclusive of prosecutors and witnesses' expenses paid through the County and City Treasurers. The latter expense and the number of prosecutors and witnesses paid have been ascertained from the County and City Treasurers, but these payments are not confined to prosecutions in which the Crown Counsel and Solicitors are engaged.

The following table gives a summary of the costs of criminal prosecutions in Ireland, with the number of Crown prosecutions in County and City of Dublin, and Crown prosecutions on Circuit, except Counties of Cavan and Longford, and in 26 of the 40 Quarter Sessions Courts:—

COSTS OF CRIMINAL PROSECUTIONS COMPARED WITH THOSE IN 1864.	Number of Crown Prosecutions, 1865.	Number of Crown Prosecutions, 1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.	Costs of Criminal Prosecutions, 1865.	Costs of Criminal Prosecutions, 1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.

Total Costs for all Ireland, . . .					49,621 17 1	60,190 4 4	—	10,568 7 3

This table shows an increase in the number and costs of Crown prosecutions in Dublin, and a marked diminution in both in the rest of Ireland.

The criminal prosecutions in Ireland are managed differently from those in England and Wales. The Executive Government, by the Law Officers and Crown Solicitors, takes charge of all the serious cases at Assizes in Ireland and at the Dublin Commission Court. In England and Wales the Treasury Solicitor in 1864 prosecuted in 344 Mint cases, and in 62 other cases; while the prosecutions at the Circuit Assize Courts, in 1863, were 3,276 and at the Central Criminal Court, 824. At the Quarter Sessions in Ireland a Sessional Crown Solicitor attends, but Barristers are scarcely ever employed. From these differences the expenses of Crown prosecutions in Ireland should be higher at Assizes than in England and Wales, and less at Quarter Sessions.

* Vide p. 16, supra.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

Assizes, Quarter
Sessions, &c.
(Tables 1-8, pp.
88-108).

As the English Returns appear to include the cases where witnesses were paid as well as where professional assistance was employed, the average cost founded upon such numbers will not compare with the average cost in Ireland, calculated on the cases where the Crown Solicitor intervenes, and so no comparison of average cost is given.

The tables of Criminal Proceedings at Assizes, at the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, have been compiled so as to give in a condensed form information similar to that contained in the "Irish Criminal Tables,"* which were annually presented to Parliament for many years previous to the compilation of the Irish Judicial and Criminal Statistics for 1863.

The forms of return used for the Irish Criminal Tables have been preserved, so as to allow of an accurate comparison with the statistics of this class of criminal proceedings in Ireland for past years, and by this means the defect is obviated which the Irish Judicial Statistics, from being only compiled for three years, would otherwise be subject to.

In this comparison it was necessary to mark the large addition to the number of the offences treated as distinct, inserted by the advice of the Law Adviser to the Irish Government in the Tables of 1862, after the Consolidated Criminal Statutes had come into operation. This has been done on Table 6, and the figures before and after the new classification of offences are distinguished by a broad line. The change, however, does not affect the total number of offences of all classes.

The number of persons for trial at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and at Quarter Sessions, is compared with the numbers in the preceding ten years, in the following summary :—

		Increase.	Decrease.
1856,	7,099	—	—
1857,	7,210	111	—
1858,	6,308	—	902
1859,	5,865	—	443
1860,	5,386	—	479
1861,	5,586	200	—
1862,	6,666	1,080	—
1863,	6,078	—	588
1864,	5,086	—	992
1865,	4,657	—	429
Decrease in ten years,		2,442

The decrease during 1865 in the number of persons sent for trial, as compared with the year immediately preceding, by 429, or upwards of 8·4 per cent., is highly satisfactory, following as it does upon progressive decreases since 1856 (except in the exceptional years of distress, 1861 and 1862), so that 1865 presents a smaller number of persons for trial than any year during the last ten, and shows a reduction of 2,442 from 7,099 in 1856, to 4,657 in 1865, being upwards of 34 per cent. Allowing 12 per cent. for reduction of population, the diminution of serious crime in Ireland in ten years would amount to at least 22 per cent., or nearly one-fourth.

Classes of Offences compared with 1864 (Table 1,
pp. 88-89).

The differences in the classes of offences of which those for trial in 1865 and 1864 were convicted or charged are indicated by the following summary :—

CLASSES OF OFFENCES COMPARED WITH THOSE IN 1864.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.	Increase, 1865, per cent.	Decrease, 1865, per cent.
1. Offences against the person,	1,738	1,714	24	—	1·4	—
2. Do. do. property, with violence,	196	315	—	119	—	37·8
3. Do. do. property, without violence,	1,593	1,946	—	353	—	18·1
4. Malicious offences against property,	82	58	24	—	41·3	—
5. Forgeries and offences against the currency,	81	92	—	11	—	12·0
6. Treasonable Felony,	41	11	30	—	273·	—
7. Offences not included in the above classes,	926	950	—	24	—	2·5
Total,	4,657	5,086	—	429	—	8·4

* The origin of the Irish Criminal Tables is explained in the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1863, p. xix.

The chief unfavourable feature in this summary is the increase in Treasonable Felony from 11 cases in 1864 to 41 in 1865, being an increase of 273 per cent. The increase is more remarkable when it is considered that there were no cases of Treasonable Felony in 1863. The other unfavourable features are slight increases of less than one-half per cent. in offences against the person and malicious offences against property.

The favourable symptoms are decreases of 37 per cent. in offences against property with violence; of 18 per cent. in offences against property without violence; of 12 per cent. in offences against the currency; and 8 per cent. in all the offences grouped together.

In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland, the statistics afford very satisfactory results. There were only two persons for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1865. The number for trial for riot and feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., were 10 in 1863, 5 in 1864, and only 1 in 1865. For offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages, there was not a single person for trial in either 1863, 1864, or 1865. These statistics are highly creditable to the tradesmen and labouring classes engaged in manufactures.

The following are the results of the proceedings at Assizes, the Dublin Commission Court, and Quarter Sessions, in each of the two years:—

ings (Table 3,

The following summary shows the number convicted, and not convicted, and the rate per cent. of each for the ten years from 1856 to 1865:—

Convictions

1865,	2,661	1,996	4,657	57·14	42·86

The proportion of acquitted and discharged in 1865 to those placed on trial, 42·86 per cent., is still at a much higher rate than in England and Wales, where the proportion of the acquitted and discharged in 1864 amounted to but 24·3 per cent.

Capital Convictions.

Of the 5 persons sentenced to death in 1865, in 1 case the sentence was commuted to penal servitude, and the following 4 persons were executed:—

Michael Lynch, aged 24; murder of his father—for infidelity to his mother.

Patrick Kilkenny, aged 35; murder of his sweetheart—from jealousy.

Thomas Hayes, aged 51; murder of his wife, by striking her on the head with a smoothing-iron; afterwards carried her away to a bog, two miles off, and buried her; was convicted on his own confession. Supposed exciting cause, her discovery of an improper intercourse between him and a daughter by a former wife.

Laurence King, aged 20; murder of a young military officer who had employed him as an attendant for a day's sporting.

In addition to the information in the English Tables of Criminal Proceedings, the Irish Criminal Tables contain details as to the ages and state of instruction of the persons for trial.

In the Irish Tables those detained in Reformatory Schools are classed in the original sentence of imprisonment imposed, and there shown as a separate class.—Vide Tables, pp. 88, 89. The numbers were as follow:—1859, 36; 1860, 65; 1861, 51; 1862, 38; 1863, 41; 1864, 54; and 1865, 28.

The result of the systematic education of the poorer classes in Ireland is shown by this table. Whilst the proportion the state of whose education has not been ascertained is much less in 1865 than in 1856, the proportion who can read and write has increased from 25 to 35·32 per cent.

The sexes of those for trial in 1864 and 1865, and the state of instruction of those committed of each sex, are given in the following summary :—

* Other statistics of the State of Instruction of all the prisoners, and not those for trial only, have been collected for the first time in forms similar to those used for England and Wales, and the returns show a much smaller proportion the state of whose instruction is not ascertained, and so far appear more complete.

It appears from this summary that while the proportion of men and boys who were ascertained to be incapable on their commitment of either reading or writing was 26·26 per cent., the proportion of women and girls in this state of ignorance was 46·48 per cent.

The number of persons for trial being less than in 1864, it is of importance to trace whether this diminution was general or local. For this purpose the following summary has been compiled.

It appears that the improvement in 1865, as shown by the smaller number of persons for trial, extended to 17 counties and 1 riding out of the 32 counties, to 6 counties of cities or of towns, and to three provinces.

* Exclusive of 403 Seamen and others at Sea on Census night.

The unfavourable indications in the statistics of persons sent for trial is the increase of the number in 5 of the 9 counties of Ulster, and in the County of Antrim the increase being from 131 in 1864 to 251 in 1865, or nearly 100 per cent.

CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS.

The statistics of the Petty Sessions Courts in Ireland have been included in the present volume as in the volume for 1864, though the corresponding information is not given in the English volume. Petty Sessions
(Table, p. 109).

The statistics have been collected for many years through the quarterly returns made by the Clerks of the Petty Sessions to the Office of the Chief Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, and the tables given are only compilations from these returns.

The importance of the Courts appears from the circumstance that a very large proportion of the criminal cases in Ireland is disposed of by Magistrates at Petty Sessions and Police Courts under the several Summary Jurisdiction Acts. It appears from the Police Tables* that whilst 4,788 persons were proceeded against by indictment in all Ireland, except the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, no less than 182,752 were proceeded against summarily.

The Petty Sessions Courts, too, exercise civil jurisdiction in certain cases—a jurisdiction of more importance since the abolition of manor courts in Ireland.

In connection with the expenditure of public money the statistics of these Courts are also important, as there are 72 Resident or Stipendiary Magistrates appointed under Stat. 6, Wm. IV., c. 13, a considerable part of whose duty is to attend the Courts of Petty Sessions, and there are 425 Petty Sessions Clerks on salaries paid out of the Petty Sessions Clerks' Fund, with 69 former Petty Sessions Clerks as pensioners from the same Fund.

The returns from which the tables are compiled do not include the Dublin Metropolitan Police District, and of the 604 Petty Sessions Courts in the rest of Ireland 53 Courts are omitted for imperfect returns.

The amounts of fees, and of fines and penalties, are given in many of the returns, but are not sufficiently complete to admit of summaries of the totals being given.

The Court of Quarter Sessions in Ireland is in one respect differently constituted from the Court of Quarter Sessions in England, being presided over by the Chairman of the County, or Irish County Court Judge. A table has been introduced showing the appeals from Magistrates, which are given in another form in the English statistics; the applications for spirit licences and the disposal of bills of indictment are also shown, so as to give a complete view of the entire business at Quarter Sessions.

The proceedings at Quarter Sessions as compared with those in 1864, were as follow :—

The different districts present great diversity as to the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population—from 1 in 58 of the population in Carlow to 1 in 357 in Sligo. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not, except in towns, a qualification for a Juror. It also arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to qualifications appear not to be observed.

The statutable qualifications for Jurors for counties at large are—

In Rural Districts,	{ Freeholders. Leaseholders. Resident Merchants.
In Towns,	{ Freemen. Householders.

There appears, however, in no less than 26 districts out of 71 from which returns have been received, that persons are returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualification.

PRISONS.

PRISONS.

Under the head of Prisons are included the statistics of bridewells and of gaols in counties, and counties of cities or of towns, convict prisons, and reformatories, as also the statistics of criminal lunatics confined in gaols and lunatic asylums. The prisoners in the Four Courts Marshalsea† at Dublin have not been included, the numbers in it not having been hitherto included in the General Tables of the Inspectors-General of Prisons.

The gaols included in these tables are 39 in number. They are not divided into county, borough, and liberty prisons as in England and Wales. The towns in Ireland that have distinct taxation for gaols are those which are counties of cities or counties of towns being only 8 out of the 33 boroughs in Ireland; of these 8 towns with distinct taxation only 5 have actually distinct gaols, there being only 1 gaol for the county and city of Kilkenny, 1 for the county and city of Waterford, and 1 for the county of Antrim, and the county of the town of Carrickfergus.

* This a qualification in a county of a city, but not in a county at large.

† The Inspectors-General of Prisons though not including the Four Courts Marshalsea in their General Report, add in an Appendix a special Report on this institution, from which it appears that there were 31 prisoners in custody on the 27th December, 1864, the maximum at any time in the year having been 51, and that the total commitments in the year were 244.

The table as to bridewells is compiled in the Office of the Inspector-General of Prisons from the returns made to that department, and when compared with 1864 it gives the following result:—

PRISON.

This summary shows a serious increase in the number of commitments for drunkenness from 9,513 in 1864 to 10,650 in 1865. This is more serious, as the number of commitments in 1863 for drunkenness were only 8,109; there is, therefore, an increase in the two years of 2,541, or 30 per cent.

The increase in 1865 is specially observable, as it has taken place, notwithstanding the passing of the “Beer-houses (Ireland) Act, 1864,” Stat. 27 & 28 Vic., c. 35.

The number of commitments to county gaols, inclusive of debtors, or commitments on civil process, was as follows:—

The number of commitments to gaols in Ireland during 1865, classified by sexes and classes of convictions, with the proportion per cent. of each, as compared with the corresponding proportion per cent. in England and Wales in 1864, is shown in the following summary:—

COMMITMENTS.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total of both Sexes.	Proportion per cent.

It appears from this summary that the proportion of persons convicted at Assizes and Quarter Sessions, of debtors and of military and naval prisoners, is greater in England and Wales than in Ireland, whilst the proportion summarily convicted, and those unconvicted, is greater in Ireland than in England and Wales.

The much larger number of men and boys than women and girls committed, verifies the well-known social law that women are in general less criminal than men, whilst the fact that recommitments of women are much more frequent than in the case of men is in strict accordance with another social law, that when women once enter into the paths of crime they become more criminal than men.*

The following summary shows the ages and sexes of persons (except debtors and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in 1865.

Ages.

The proportion of each sex at the different ages in the prisons in England and Wales in 1864 is added for comparison.

It appears from this summary that the same general social law as to the ages of prisoners in county gaols prevails in Ireland as in England and Wales. There are however variations, especially as to the greater excess by which the maximum of persons between 21 and 30 years of age exceed the other ages in both sexes in Ireland than in England and Wales, which suggest an inquiry as to the causes of the difference.

The following summary shows the birthplace of the persons (other than debtors, and persons charged with military and naval offences) committed to the different county and county of city or of town gaols in Ireland in 1865.

* The extent to which depraved women are recommitment is shown by the Inspectors-General of Prisons in their Report for 1864. It appears from that Report, p. xiv., that of the 201 persons committed between 20 and 30 times, 162 were females; of the 143 between 30 and 50 times, 127 were females; and that of the 90 committed more than 50 times, 84 were females, one woman having been committed so often as 194 times; and of the total number who had undergone more than 20 commitments 373 were women and but 61 were men.

The proportion of persons born in the same countries in the county prisons in England and Wales in 1864 is given for comparison.

It appears from this summary that there were less than two per cent. of women and girls, and less than four per cent. of men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, whilst in England and Wales in 1864 there were 17 per cent. of men and boys and 27 per cent. of women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 12 per cent. of the men and boys and 22 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

There is a very small number of persons of Scotch birth in the English prisons, but it is remarkable that the number of women and girls, 2·7 per cent., is nearly double 1·7 per cent. the number of men and boys, just as is the case of Irish emigrants.

It is probable that in both cases it arises from the migration of women of bad character from the poorer to the wealthier parts of the kingdom.

The following summary gives the degree of instruction of the same class of prisoners in gaols, as already referred to, in Ireland in 1865, with the English proportion for 1864 for comparison :—

The comparison in this table shows that there is a larger per-centage of prisoners in Ireland entirely destitute of education than in England and Wales, whilst of those who are educated there is a larger per-centage who can read and write well.

Total,	17,989	13,662	31,651	100.	100.	100.	100.

In the Criminal Statistics of Ireland for 1864 the proportions were calculated for both sexes taken together, in this volume the proportion for each sex has been calculated and compared with the English proportions, and the result is to show the same social law in both countries. The excess of factory workers and mechanics in England and Wales arising from the greater number employed in manufactures there, and the different proportion in domestic servants of the different sexes arising from the tax on man servants in England, which does not exist in Ireland, and the consequent greater proportional employment of women servants there.

These summaries exhibit the very satisfactory result of the prisoners in the Irish county gaols at both the beginning and the end of the year, being about half the number in proportion to population in the English county prisons; and yet the Irish prisoners appear to have been dealt with in a much more lenient way than the English prisoners, 189 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, whilst only 34 were so discharged amongst an equal portion of the population in England and Wales, and 619 having been released on bail, as compared with 194 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

The number sent to lunatic asylums in Ireland, 405, greatly exceeds 36, the proportionate number for England and Wales; but this arises from the state of the law, which still allows dangerous lunatics to be sent to gaols in Ireland, whilst they are sent direct to lunatic asylums in England and Wales, under Statute 1 & 2 Vic., c. 14, by which the power of sending dangerous lunatics to prisons in England was repealed in 1838.

Total,	1,425	349	1,774	57,645	12,009	10,235

The contrast between the Irish and English prisons shown by those figures is remarkable. There were 12,009 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 3,856 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), whilst there were only 1,774 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons amongst the same daily average number of prisoners.

Discipline was maintained in Ireland in 1865 without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-third the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was only 483 times, as compared with 7,772 times in England and Wales.

Number of officers in gaols. The following summary shows the officers in Irish county gaols, with number of officers of each class in the corresponding English prisons for comparison:—

The chief points to be noticed in the Irish as compared with the English gaols in respect of officers is the greater staff of officers in Ireland, especially in officers of a superior class, the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92 where there were only 38 in England, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

These figures are very important in connexion with the maintenance of discipline in Irish gaols with so much less punishment for prison offences than in England.

The following summary shows the expenses in detail, the total costs of gaols and of officers and prisoners, and the average charge per prisoner in Ireland in 1865, with the corresponding figures for England and Wales in 1864:—

It appears from these summaries that the cost of the mere official staff of officers in Irish prisons already noticed is only £1 8s. 10d. per head above the cost in England and Wales, while the total cost per head of each prisoner in Ireland is only £22 2s. 9d., in England it is £29 14s. 1d.

It appears from this summary that there was a diminution of 126 in the number of convicts received during the year, from 438 in 1864 to 312 in 1865, being at the rate of 28 per cent., indicating a diminution to that extent in the more serious offences for which severe punishments were inflicted during the year.

There was an increase in the number let out on tickets-of-leave from 305 in 1864 to 310 in 1865. The number of tickets-of-leave granted in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1864 was 331.

There was also an increase in the number of those discharged on the termination of their sentence, from 75 in 1864 to 96 in 1865, but this number is higher than 29, the number discharged on the termination of their sentence in England amongst an equal number of convicts disposed of in 1864.

The Inspector of Reformatory Schools has made returns in forms somewhat similar to those in the English Judicial Statistics. Reformatory Schools.

There are 4 reformatory schools for boys, and 5 for girls in Ireland. Of these, 3 are for Protestants—2 for boys and 1 for girls; and 6 for Roman Catholics—2 for boys and 4 for girls. The total number committed in 1865 was 160. Of these, 118 were boys and 42 girls; 137 were Roman Catholics, and 23 Protestants. (Tables 1-3, pp. 141-142).

PRISONS.

The terms of detention of the offenders committed in 1865 were as follow :—

Reformatory Schools.	Previous imprisonment—		Subsequent detention in reformatories—
Terms of detention in reformatories.	14 days,	98	2 years,	3
	1 month and above 14 days,	57	3 years,	15

	4 months and above 2 months,	1	5 years,	123

The number committed on indictment before Judges of the Superior Courts, the Recorder of Dublin, and the Chairmen of Quarter Sessions, was 33, or 20 per cent. of the entire number; and 127, or 79 per cent., were committed on summary convictions before Justices. These numbers show a decrease upon the numbers in 1864 of 30 boys, and an increase of 6 girls, giving a total decrease of 24.

As 32 per cent. were committed on indictments in 1864, it appears that a decreased proportion has been committed from the higher tribunals in 1865. In England and Wales in 1864, 25·4 per cent. were committed on indictment.

Position as regards parental control of boys and girls in reformatories.

The position of those committed to reformatories in Ireland, as to parental control, is shown by the following table :—

	One only.	Both.	Total.
Parents dead,	52	22	74
Deserted by parents,	10	9	19
Parents in prison,	9	4	13
Otherwise uncontrolled by parents,	15	12	27
Total not under parental control,	86	47	133
Under parental control,	10	17	27
Total,	96	64	160

It appears from this table that of the entire number of boys and girls in reformatory schools, 160, only 17, or 10 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 27, or 17 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, showing that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of parental control and support, which may be taken as the chief cause of the crimes of those committed to reformatories.

Ages and state of instruction of boys and girls in reformatories.

This want of parental control and support is further shown in the state of education as indicated in the following table :—

AGES AND STATE OF INSTRUCTION OF BOYS AND GIRLS IN REFORMATORIES.	Aged 10 and under.	Aged 11, and above 10.	Aged 12, and above 11.	Aged 13, and above 12.	Aged 14, and above 13.	Aged 15, and above 14.	Under 16, and above 15.	Total.

Instruction not ascertained,	—	—	—	—	—	—	—	—
Total,	15	10	26	26	34	33	16	160

It appears from this summary that of the entire number, 160, only 15, or 9 per cent., could read and write well, and 5, or 3 per cent., of superior instruction, leaving 88 per cent. with a neglected education; it also appears that 73 of the entire number or 46 per cent., were entirely ignorant, being unable to read or write.

In Ireland there are no certified Industrial Schools, the Consolidated Statute for maintaining these schools in England and Scotland (29 & 30 Vic., c. 118) not having been extended to this country.

It appears from the Police returns that the class for whose benefit Industrial Schools are intended is proportionally more numerous in Ireland than in England and Wales, the 3,475 vagrants and tramps in Ireland under 16 years of age being 1,663 in excess of 1,812, the number to be found in an equal population in England and Wales in 1864.

The statutable provisions as to Justices dealing with dangerous lunatics are different in Ireland from what they are in England and Wales.

In England and Wales Justices were, so far back as 1800, by stat. 39 and 40 Geo. III., c. 94, empowered to commit dangerous lunatics to gaols, not to be bailed, except by two Justices, but in 1838, by stat. 1 and 2 Vic., c. 14, this power of committing to gaols was repealed.

Justices in England are now authorized to commit to county asylums, and where there is no asylum, to some public hospital or house duly licensed for the reception of insane persons, to ascertain the settlement of the lunatic, and charge the local rates with his support; or if the settlement be not ascertained, to charge the Treasurer of the county or place where he is apprehended. Relatives are enabled to take lunatics after committal under their own care on giving sufficient recognizance for their good behaviour and safe custody.

In 1838, the same year that the power of committing dangerous lunatics to gaols was taken away in England and Wales, Justices were for the first time enabled to commit to gaols in Ireland by stat. 1 and 2 Vic., c. 27, and all dangerous lunatics committed under that Act have to be committed to gaols in Ireland in the first instance, and are removed from thence to county lunatic asylums by order of the Lord Lieutenant. There appears to be no provision, as in England, enabling Justices to send the lunatics to licensed private asylums when the county asylums are full.

The number of criminal lunatics in gaols and asylums, and the number discharged and under detention, are shown by the following summary :—

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.	GAOLS.			ASYLUMS.			Total Gaols and Asylums.
	Males.	Females.	Total.	Males.	Females.	Total.
Total under detention,	808	425	1,233	1,407	972	2,379	3,612
„ discharged,	464	283	747	257	172	429	1,176
Remaining under detention, . . .	344	142	486	1,150	800	1,950	2,436

If the number of criminal lunatics in custody be compared with those in an equal population in England and Wales in 1864, we get the following result :—

CRIMINAL LUNATICS IN IRELAND COMPARED WITH THOSE IN ENGLAND AND WALES.	IRELAND, 1865.	ENGLAND AND WALES, 1864.		Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1865 in excess of those in equal Popula- tion in England and Wales in 1864.	Irish Criminal Lunatics in custody in 1865 less than those in equal Popula- tion in England and Wales in 1864.
		Total.	Number in a portion of the Population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.
Remaining under detention at end of year,	2,436	1,008	272	2,164	—

It appears from this comparison that there were nearly eight times as many criminal lunatics under detention in 1865 in Ireland, in proportion to population, as in England and Wales in 1864.

The cause of this difference forms an important subject of inquiry, whether it arises from the larger proportion of police in Ireland, or from the smaller number of private asylums, and smaller number of dangerous lunatics supported by their friends as mere lunatics, or from the apparently greater prevalence of drunkenness indicated by the police statistics, or from any other difference in the circumstance of the two countries.

The offences with which the criminal lunatics under detention were charged are completely returned as to 1,103 of the 1,233 under detention in gaols, but the returns from the asylums are imperfect ; and the cause of this imperfection will be inquired into before the forms are settled for 1866.

CONCLUSIONS IN REPORT.

The following is a Summary of some of the principal conclusions in this Report on the Irish Criminal Statistics for 1865.

1. The year 1865 presents a smaller number of persons for trial at Assizes, Dublin Commission Court, and Quarter Sessions, than any year during the last ten, and shows a reduction of 2,442 from 7,099 in 1856, to 4,657 in 1865, being upwards of 34 per cent. Allowing 12 per cent. for reduction of population, the diminution of serious crime in Ireland in ten years would amount at least to 22 per cent., or nearly one-fourth.

2. The only unfavourable feature of importance in the statistics of those for trial in 1865 as compared with 1864, is the increase in treasonable-felony from 11 cases in 1864 to 41 in 1865, being an increase of 273 per cent. The increase is more remarkable when it is considered that there were no cases of treasonable-felony in 1863.

3. In connexion with the efforts to extend manufactures in Ireland the statistics afford very satisfactory results. There were only two persons for trial for destroying machines or goods in process of manufacture in 1865. The number for trial for riot and feloniously demolishing buildings, machinery, &c., were 10 in 1863, 5 in 1864, and only 1 in 1865. For offences connected with conspiracies or combinations to raise the rate of wages, there was not a single person for trial in either 1863, 1864, or 1865. These statistics are highly creditable to the tradesmen and labouring classes engaged in manufactures.

4. The number of persons executed in 1865 was 4, being 1 less than 5, the number which 20 executions in England and Wales in 1864 would give in a portion of the population equal to that of Ireland.

5. The verdicts of Coroners' juries of wilful murder were 70 in Ireland, being 2 less than 72, the number which the 267 verdicts for murder in England and Wales in 1864 would give in a population equal to that of Ireland.

6. In the verdicts of Coroners' juries infanticide or murder of children under 1 year is distinguished from murders of persons above 1 year ; and it appears that infanticides were more numerous in England and Wales, and other murders in Ireland. Thus the number which the 203 verdicts of infanticide in England and Wales in 1864 would give in a population equal to that of Ireland is 55, whilst the number of verdicts of infanticide in Ireland was only 39 ; on the other hand, whilst the 64 other verdicts of murder in England and Wales would give only 17 for Ireland, there were 31 returned.

7. Infanticides as compared with other murders are excessive in both countries ; as there are 2.4 children under 1 year of age in Ireland in every 100 of the population, it follows that the 39 infanticides are 52 times the number of murders which occurred in Ireland in 1865, amongst the same number of persons at other age-periods.

8. The 55 infanticides in England and Wales, in a portion of the population equal to that of Ireland, was 100 times the number of murders in England and Wales in 1864 amongst the same number of persons at other age-periods.

9. The statistics of infanticide indicated by the verdicts of Coroners' juries in both countries are very startling, and resting as they do upon the sworn verdicts of a number of independent juries, before different Coroners, in all parts of both countries, the statistics are free from any prejudice to affect the inference of the excess of infanticide which is to be deduced from them.

10. The entire number of indictable offences (not disposed of summarily) in Ireland in 1865 was only 9,766, being 4,033, or 29 per cent. less than 13,799, the number in 1864 in a corresponding portion of the population of England and Wales.

11. The characteristics of Irish crime, indicated by the summary of indictable offences returned by the Police, and not disposed of summarily, correspond with those observed last year, the most unfavourable features being malicious offences against property, riots, assaults, inflicting bodily harm, and other assaults.

12. In offences against property there is a much smaller number than in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales. In the offences of attempts to murder, shooting at, wounding, stabbing, &c., to do bodily harm, and manslaughter, the Irish statistics are more favourable than the English, as also in unnatural offences, rape and immoral offences, in perjury, and in attempts to commit suicide.

13. In the minor cases of indictable offences (determined summarily) there are the same characteristics as the tables of graver cases (not determined summarily); the number of such offences is 21,257, being 3,289, or 13 per cent. less than the number in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864; there is also less of theft and of crimes of the low moral tone indicated by aggravated assaults on women and children than in England and Wales. On the other hand, there is a greater prevalence of malicious offences in Ireland.

14. There appears to be a greater excess of the less serious offences reported by the police and disposed of summarily, the number in Ireland being 212,622, as compared with 94,619, in a corresponding portion of the population of England and Wales. The excess of 104,036 (after deducting 13,967 for offences unclassified) is more than accounted for by the excess of offences under the four following heads: Drunkenness, 56,922; offences against Acts of Parliament, such as Ways Acts, Pawnbrokers' Act, Revenue Laws, &c., 35,877; offences against Local Acts, and Nuisances Acts, 2,421; common assaults, 11,232; making a total of 106,452.

15. That the excess of minor offences reported by the police most probably arises from the police being twice the number in proportion to population in England and Wales, is shown by the statistics as to prostitutes. Thus while it appears from the police tables that the number of prostitutes known to the police in Ireland in 1865 was 3,457, as compared with 7,593, in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864; there were 4,427 charges against prostitutes under the Vagrant Acts in Ireland in 1865 as compared with 2,007 in an equal portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864.

16. The comparison as to criminal classes with those in England and Wales exhibits a very satisfactory result, that notwithstanding the large number of Police in Ireland, the number of criminal classes, other than vagrants and tramps, known to the Police was only 11,444, being less than one-half 22,923, the number in a corresponding portion of the population in England and Wales in 1864.

17. In consequence of the difference in the Poor Laws and in the laws as to Industrial Schools in both countries, the vagrants and tramps are distinguished from the other criminal classes, and the returns exhibit a decrease in the criminal classes known to the Police other than vagrants and tramps, as compared with 1864; but there is an increase in the number of juvenile delinquents, especially amongst vagrants and tramps, and also a very large increase in the number of vagrants and tramps above 16 years of age.

18. In connexion with the increase of juvenile delinquents the total absence of Industrial Schools in Ireland should be borne in mind. During the past Session the law as to Industrial Schools has been consolidated for England and Wales by Statute 29 and 30 Vic., c. 118; but this valuable code of laws commencing in the year 1854, by Statute 17 and 18 Vic., c. 86, and amended by successive enactments, after ten years' experience has not yet been extended to Ireland.

19. The excess of vagrants and tramps of all ages in Ireland amounting to 1,203, is very small when the difference between the proportion of the poor in receipt of Poor Law Relief in Ireland and in England and Wales is taken into consideration. The average daily number in receipt of relief in Ireland in 1865-66 was 52,121 in workhouses, and 10,040 outdoor, or 62,161 in all, being 212,157 less than 274,318, the number in receipt of relief in 1864, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

20. The Dublin Metropolitan Police is 1 to 296 of the population, whilst in the London district the force is 1 to 440 of the population. In the rest of Ireland the Police is 1 to 448 of the population, and in the rest of England and Wales 1 to 1,085 of the population.

21. In Dublin 46 per cent. of the cost of the Police is paid from the local taxes, and in London 75 per cent. of the cost is so paid. In the rest of Ireland 4 per cent. of the cost of the Police is paid out of the local taxes, and in the rest of England and Wales 78 per cent. is so paid.

22. The 1,134 Dublin Metropolitan Police are 371 in excess of the London proportion; the entire cost of this excess, £28,060, is defrayed from the general taxes, and the Dublin district gains £5,411 besides by the Irish rule of contribution; so that in Dublin £33,471 is granted from the general taxes for Police more than would be granted if the London rule of contribution was followed.

23. The 12,193 Police in the rest of Ireland is 7,156 in excess of the English proportion of Police to population, the entire cost of this excess, £399,617, is defrayed from the general taxes, and the rest of Ireland gains £189,211 besides by the Irish rule of contribution; so that in Ireland outside the Dublin district £588,828 is granted from the general taxes for Police more than would be granted if the English rule of contribution were followed.

24. In the Statistics of Jurors' Sessions the different districts present great diversity in the number of qualified Jurors in proportion to population, from 1 in 58 of the population in Carlow to 1 in 357 of the population in Sligo. This arises in part from the greater or less extent to which the leasehold tenure, upon which the qualification mainly depends, has been replaced in different districts by a yearly tenancy, which is not except in towns a qualification for a Juror.

25. The diversity of the number of Jurors arises in part from the extent to which the statutable provisions as to the qualifications appear not to be observed. It appears that in no less than 26 districts out of 71 from which returns were received, that 2,861 persons were returned as Jurors with other than the statutable qualifications, being 7.6 per cent. of 37,733, the entire number of Jurors returned.

26. The number of criminal lunatics in Ireland under detention at the end of the year 1865 was 2,436, being 2,164 in excess of 272, the number under detention at the end of 1864, in a portion of the population of England and Wales equal to that of Ireland.

27. In the commitments to bridewells there is a serious increase in the number of commitments for drunkenness, the numbers being 8,109 in 1863; 9,513 in 1864; and 10,650 in 1865.

28. In the number of commitments to county gaols there is a falling off of 954 from 33,811 in 1864 to 32,857 in 1865.

29. From the statistics of the birthplace of prisoners it appears there were less than 2 per cent. of the women and girls, and less than 4 per cent. of the men and boys not of Irish birth in Irish gaols, whilst in England and Wales there were 17 per cent. of the men and boys, and 27 per cent. of the women and girls in English prisons not born in England and Wales, and of these strangers no less than 12 per cent. of the men and boys and 22 per cent. of the women and girls were of Irish birth.

30. In the education of the prisoners it appears that 40 per cent. of men and boys and 53 per cent. of the women and girls in Irish gaols could neither read nor write, being larger per-centages entirely destitute of education than the English per-centages of 33 per cent. of men and boys and 38 per cent. of women and girls. On the other hand, 25 per cent. of men and boys and 21 per cent. of women and girls in Irish gaols could read and write well. This is a marked contrast to the 6 per cent. of men and boys and 2 per cent. of women and girls in the English gaols returned as able to read and write well.

31. The statistics of the Irish gaols exhibit the very satisfactory result of the prisoners therein, both at the beginning and end of the year 1865, being about half the number in proportion to population in the English county prisons; and yet the Irish prisoners appear to have been dealt with in a much more lenient way than the English prisoners, 189 having been discharged on pardon or commutation of sentence, whilst only 34 were so discharged amongst an equal portion of the population in England and Wales, and 619 having been released on bail as compared with 194 under similar circumstances in England and Wales.

32. With respect to punishments for prison offences the contrast between the Irish and English prisons is remarkable. There were 12,009 punishments inflicted in English prisons amongst 3,856 prisoners (the Irish daily average number), whilst there were only 1,774 punishments inflicted in Irish prisons amongst the same daily average number of prisoners.

33. Discipline was maintained in the Irish gaols without whipping, with less resort to irons or handcuffs, with about one-third the use of solitary or dark cells, and the stoppage of diet in Ireland was only 483 times as compared with 7,772 times in England and Wales amongst an equal daily average number of 3,856 prisoners.

34. In connexion with the maintenance of discipline in Irish gaols the greater proportion of officers, especially officers of a superior class, is to be observed the number of Chaplains in Ireland being 92, where there were only 38 in England, and the Local Inspectors being entirely wanting in England.

35. In convict prisons there was a diminution in the number of convicts received during the year from 438 in 1864, to 312 in 1865, being at the rate of 28 per cent., indicating a diminution to that extent in the more serious offences for which severe punishments were inflicted in 1865.

36. There was a decrease of 24 in the numbers sent to reformatory schools in Ireland in 1865 as compared with the numbers in 1864.

37. Of the entire number of 160 boys and girls in reformatory schools only 17, or 10 per cent., were under the control of both parents, and only 27, or 17 per cent., under the control of one or both parents, showing that reformatories are really supplying to their inmates the want of parental control and support, which may be taken as the chief cause of the crime of those committed to reformatories.

JUDICIAL STATISTICS.

PART II.

IRELAND.

COMMON LAW—EQUITY—CIVIL AND CANON LAW.

RETURNS FOR THE YEAR 1865,

Compiled by Order of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland,

COMPRISING

The Superior Courts of Common Law, the Courts of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders, and other Courts for the Recovery of Small Debts.

The High Court of Chancery, the Landed Estates Court, the Court of Probate, the Ecclesiastical Courts, the High Court of Admiralty, the Court of Bankruptcy and Insolvency.

The Supreme Courts of Appeal, viz.—the House of Lords, the Privy Council, Ireland, the Court of Appeal in Chancery, the Exchequer Chamber, and the High Court of Delegates.

PART II.

INTRODUCTORY AND EXPLANATORY REPORT.

THE Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland has, at the Crown side, a jurisdiction corresponding to the jurisdiction of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, and also a jurisdiction peculiar to the Irish Court of fiating the Presentments made by the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin for the expenditure of the local tax for the repairs of roads, expenses of prisons and asylums, and other local purposes, called county cess, and of fiating the Presentments of the Town Council of the City of Dublin, so far as it exercises the powers formerly vested in the Grand Jury of the City of Dublin in respect of county cess.

In connexion with these fiscal powers the Court has jurisdiction over the Traverses of Presentments of the Grand Jury or Town Council, chiefly for new roads and Claims for Malicious Injuries to property.

The Court has also a jurisdiction, peculiar to Ireland, in the case of Railway Traverses under the Railways (Ireland) Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70).

The ordinary business at the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary:—

	1865.	1864.	Increase.
Writs of Mandamus, application for, . . .	14	5	9
Writs of Habeas Corpus, . . .	19	14	5
Certiorari, Rules Nisi, . . .	14	10	4
Information, Rules Nisi, . . .	1	1	—
On Orders of Sessions and Special Cases, . . .	—	—	—
Other Special Rules absolute, . . .	109	65	44

These figures show a large increase of business in 1865.

The unsatisfactory state of the jurisdiction of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland as compared with the corresponding jurisdiction in England, is indicated by the following statements and suggestions of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commissioners, which have not yet been made the subject of legislation. The Commissioners state that—

“There are no published rules regulating the practice on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, and the powers which the Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench in England have, under Stat. 6 & 7 Vic., c. 20, s. 11, of framing rules, do not exist in Ireland; and that there are other differences in the practice between the two countries, arising from the reforms introduced by the above Statute into England not having been extended to Ireland;” and they recommend, “that the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland should be provided with like powers to those of the Court in England, and that the proceedings and practice adopted in England by the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench should be extended to Ireland.”

They also notice “a practice of requiring parties to take office copies of documents, though it would appear that the provisions of the Act 2 Wm. IV., c. 48, were intended to relieve parties from such obligation;" and they state "that the matter thus complained of is part of a more general question."

BENCH.
(Crown Side).

They also state, that "in some departments of the Courts of Law and Equity in England and Ireland a rule prevails that no person shall be compelled to take an office or attested copy of any affidavit or other document," and they express their opinion that "this should be extended to all proceedings in all the Superior Courts of England and Ireland, both Civil and Criminal."*

They also state "that the Court fees on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, as fixed by Stat. 2 Wm. IV., c. 48, are higher than the corresponding Law Fund Duties which were more recently fixed on the Civil side by the Irish Common Law Procedure Act of 1853," and that they are "also much higher than the fees on the corresponding proceedings on the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in England."†

The business of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland, peculiar to the Irish Court, as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

—	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Fiscal Presentments:
Number,	702	793	—	91
Amount,	£72,686 12s. 6d.	£65,191 15s. 3½d.	£7,494 17s. 2½d.	—
Objections to Presentments,	—	2	—	2
Claims for Malicious Injuries,	3	11	—	8
Objections to Claims,	—	2	—	2
County Presentments—Claims—Trial by } Jury,	1	—	1	—

Of the increase of £7,495 in the amount of Fiscal Presentments, £5,056 took place in those for the County of Dublin and £2,439 in those for the County of the City of Dublin.

The reduction in claims for Malicious Injuries in the County and City of Dublin from 11 to 3 is a matter of satisfaction.

Writ and Seal
Office.
(Table 5, p. 184.)

The issue of Writs for the three Superior Courts of Common Law from a Consolidated Writ and Seal Office was established in 1850 by the Process and Practice Act (Stat. 13 & 14 Vic., c. 18), and the Writs of Summons and Plaint are issued in rotation, 25 for each of the three Courts, under the provisions of the Irish Common Law Procedure Act, 1853, s. 15.

The plaintiff is by the provisions of the same Act prevented from issuing his writ until he has prepared his first pleading. As the summons and plaint corresponds to the English writ and declaration consolidated, the use of writs to the same extent as in England and Wales is thus prevented.

Writs.

The writs issued are compared with those in the preceding year in the following summary:—

These figures show a decrease in the number of writs and executions in nearly every class. This, following a similar decrease, though not so extensive, in 1864, indicates a still further diminution in the pressure for debt, and consequently a more satisfactory state of the country.

The number of Attorneys' licences sealed and entered were :—

The jurisdiction of the three Superior Courts of Common Law corresponded very closely with the jurisdiction of the similar Courts in England from the introduction into Ireland of the Common Law of England in the reign of King John until the year 1828. Up to that year the differences in the practice and procedure between the Superior Courts of Common Law of the two countries were inconsiderable. But in the progress of law reform since then, various Acts to reform the practice and procedure having been passed for the two countries in different years, considerable differences have been introduced, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission made in 1863.

Assimilation to the extent recommended by the Commissioners has not been made the subject of legislation, and the existence of numerous minute differences consequently creates an impediment in the way of any useful comparison of the statistics of the corresponding Courts in the two countries.

The proceedings in the Masters' Offices of the Superior Courts of Common Law in Ireland as compared with the preceding year are shown in the following summary :—

There was a remarkable decrease in the number of Cognovit Judgments in 1865, as compared with 1864, from 1,217 to 935, or 23 per cent.; and a corresponding but less decrease in the number of Case Judgments of 12 per cent.; but whilst the number of both decreased, the amount recovered increased from £823,634 to £879,003.

Proceedings before a single Judge.
(Tables Q. B. 6; C. P. 5; Ex. 4, pp. 177, 179, & 181).

In Ireland there is not, as in England, a fifth Judge in each Court to sit out for Chamber Business. One of the four Judges consequently sits for each Court for ex parte motions before the sitting of the Court in Banco. Out of term a puisne Judge sits in rotation to hear motions for the three Superior Courts of Common Law.

The business before a single Judge, and in the Rules Office, as compared with the preceding year, may be judged of by the following summary, which shows a decrease in 1865:—

Much of the business now transacted in the office of the Clerk of the Rules was, before the Common Law Procedure Act, 1853, transacted by motions in Court, and is therefore placed next it in the tables.

Proceedings in Banco.
(Tables Q. B. 3; C. P. 2; Ex. 2. pp. 176, 178, & 180.)

There appears from the preceding table to have been a considerable increase in the business before the full Court in Banco in the three Superior Courts of Common Law. The greater amount of business in 1865, than in 1864, shows continuous progress in the chief business of these Courts.

Besides the business common to the three Superior Courts of Common Law at the Plea side, they have each small branches of distinct business. Thus, the Court of Queen's Bench has the registration of Bills of Sale, under the Bills of Sale Act (17 & 18 Vic., c. 36); the Court of Common Pleas has the Acknowledgments of Deeds by Married Women, under the Irish Act for the abolition of Fines and Recoveries (Stat. 4 & 5 Wm. IV., c. 92); and the Court of Exchequer has its ancient jurisdiction in Revenue cases, from which it derives its name.

The business in these matters as compared with the preceding year, is as follows:—

SPECIAL JURISDICTIONS OF QUEEN'S BENCH, COMMON PLEAS, AND EXCHEQUER.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Queen's Bench—Bills of Sale registered,	347	357	—	10
Common Pleas—Acknowledgments by Married Women filed,	453	515	—	62
Special Commissions granted,	81	82	—	1
Exchequer—Revenue and Legacy and Succession Cases:—	.	.	.	.
Revenue Cases,	40	40	—	—
Legacy and Succession Duty Cases,	53	7	46	—
Motions in Court,	45	36	9	—
Motions for Attachments without Argument,	43	27	16	—

There was a slight reduction in the number of Bills of Sale registered as compared with the number in 1864.

There was a great falling off in the number of acknowledgments by married women.

The rule recently adopted by the Court of Common Pleas in England, by which the signature of a Judge or Magistrate in the Colonies is received in evidence without proof, in like manner as at the Registry Offices, under Statute 16 & 17 Vic., c. 78, s. 6, has not yet been extended to Ireland.

The recurrence of one of the quinquennial periods for the re-registration of old judgments obtained prior to 1850 caused the increase of 3,704 under that head in 1865; this number indicates the great extent to which old judgments are still used as securities for money in Ireland.

If the number of judgments registered be compared with the number entered up in the three Superior Courts of Common Law, it appears that, whilst 4,743 judgments were entered up, 3,984 were registered in the Registration of Judgments Office. When the Judgment Mortgage Act was passed it was expected by the framers of that Act that the amount of business in the Registration of Judgments Office would be diminished by its operation; but this expectation was founded upon the consideration of judgments only as charges on land, and the provisions of the Irish Bankruptcy Act of 1849, continued by the Act of 1857, requiring judgments to be registered within twenty-one days after being entered up, to secure priority in bankruptcy, were overlooked.

There is in Ireland one Common Law Taxing Office for the three Superior Courts, with two Taxing Officers.

The business in 1865, as compared with the preceding year, was as follows:—

NUMBER OF BILLS OF COSTS CERTIFIED.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Records, &c.,	1,282	1,662	—	380

Certified Costs—Amount allowed,	47,798 5 8	47,734 19 4	63 6 4	—

It appears from this table that, whilst there was a falling off in the costs on records for taxation, there was an increase in the whole business of the Common Law Taxing Office, arising chiefly from the re-registration of judgments—1865 being one of the quinquennial periods for the re-registration of old judgments, as above noticed.

The following summaries as to Nisi Prius business have been compiled from returns received from the Town Registrars of the Chief Judges (who correspond to the Associates in England), from the Registrar of the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, and from the Circuit Registrars (who correspond to the Marshals in England), of nine out of the twelve Common Law Judges.

The numbers cannot be compared with those in 1864 for want of returns from three of the Judges' Registrars for 1865.

In addition to the disposal of actions at the Consolidated Nisi Prius Court, the proceedings at which have been included in the summary already given of the Nisi Prius business of the three Superior Courts, it has an appeal jurisdiction from the Courts of the Recorder of the City of Dublin and of the Chairman of the County of Dublin.

The number of these appeals or rehearings in 1865 and 1864 was as follows :—

SUPERIOR COURTS OF COMMON LAW.

Appeals heard at Consolidated Nisi
Prius Court
(Table 2, p. 182).

The Nisi Prius proceedings on circuit, so far as returned, have been included in the summaries of the business of the three Superior Courts. CIRCUIT BUSINESS.

In Ireland the Judges on circuit have several branches of jurisdiction not exercised by the Judges on circuit in England, viz., appeals of the nature of rehearings from the decisions of the Chairmen of Counties or Irish County Court Judges, and Recorders; the fiating of the presentments of the Grand Juries of the local tax in Ireland called Grand Jury Cess; the hearing of traverses and objections to presentments, and claims for malicious injuries, and also the hearing of railway traverses under the Irish Railway Act, 1851 (14 & 15 Vic., c. 70). Appeals, Traverses, and Claims for Malicious Injuries
(Tables 11, 12, pp.
187, 188).

The following summary shows the proceedings under these heads in 1865 as compared with 1864:—

CIRCUIT BUSINESS.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Appeals from Chairmen of Counties entered,	339	361	—	22
" Recorders entered,	7	12	—	5
Traverses of Presentments,	52	60	—	8
Railway Traverses,	15	22	—	7
Claims for Malicious Injuries,	393	348	45	—
Objections to such claims,	47	59	—	12
Appeals against rejection of such claims, .	10	7	3	—

The traverses and claims for malicious injuries for the County and City of Dublin are disposed of by the Court of Queen's Bench, and have been already noticed.*

The increase of 45 in the number of claims for malicious injuries on circuit, over the number for 1864, more than counterbalances the reduction of 8 in the claims for malicious injuries in the County and City of Dublin.

The presentments fiated on circuit were 65,088 in number, and in the aggregate for the sum of £969,862 1s. 7¼d. If the 431 presentments of the Grand Jury of the County of Dublin for £40,665 6s. 1d. be included, the total number of presentments by Grand Juries in Ireland amounts to 65,519, and the total amount of Grand Jury cess imposed in 1865 amounts to £1,010,527 7s. 8¼d.

The presentments for the County of the City of Dublin are made by the Town Council of Dublin, and fiated partly before a Judge of the Queen's Bench, as already noticed, and partly before the Recorder of Dublin; but no return of proceedings before the Recorder of Dublin has been received. Those for the City of Cork are made by the Town Council of Cork, and are fiated before the Recorder of Cork.

The Courts of the Chairmen of Counties in Ireland correspond to the English County Courts, but have a much earlier origin, having been originally founded so far back as 1796 by an Act of the Irish Parliament (stat. 36 Geo. III., c. 25).

The returns received from these Courts are not complete either for 1865 or 1864.

These for 1865 have been divided into three classes, viz., 17 Courts of Chairmen and Recorders making complete returns, 14 making incomplete returns, and 5 (viz., the Courts of the Chairmen in Cavan, Down, Dublin, and Louth, and the Recorder's Court in the City of Dublin) from which no returns have been received.

Total (of 31 Courts),	34,280	52,524	—	18,244	7,125	8,964	—	1,839

It appears from this summary that in thirty-one courts, including those for the two ridings of Cork, and the Courts of the three Recorders of Cork, Londonderry, and Galway, the number of decrees was 34,280, being 18,244 less than the number in 1864, and being 46,035 less than 80,315, the number of decrees in 1863; and the number of dismisses was 7,125, being 1,839 less than the number in 1864.

Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act
(Table 1, p. 189).

The proceedings in the Courts of the Chairmen of Counties, under the "Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act" of 1860, so far as returned in 1865, were nil, indicating a falling off in the small numbers in 1864. In 1864 there were 3 cases returned, viz., 1 for sanctioning an improvement lease, and 2 for sanctioning a building lease. There was no case for sanctioning tenants' improvements returned in either 1865 or 1864.

Recorder's Court
(Table, p. 188).

The Recorder of Dublin exercises a jurisdiction for the County of the City of Dublin similar to that of the Chairmen of Counties, and has also a jurisdiction of appeal from the Court of the Lord Mayor of the City of Dublin, and from the Court of Conscience in Dublin, but no return has been received as to the business before the Recorder of Dublin in 1865.

Civil Bill Executions
(Table, 2, p. 190).

Under the provisions of the "Civil Bill Courts Procedure Amendment Act, Ireland, 1864," decrees of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders have, since the 1st March, 1865, been executed by the Sheriffs or their Bailiffs, and a new form of return has been framed.

The returns are divided into three classes, viz., 15 counties, or counties of cities, where the Sub-Sheriffs have made complete returns, 13 counties from which incomplete returns have been received, and 11 from which no returns have been received, viz.:—Antrim, Down, Leitrim, Limerick, Londonderry, Mayo, Monaghan, Queen's County, Roscommon, and Sligo, and Limerick City.

The following summary shows for 16 counties, and 4 counties of cities or of towns, the number of fees paid, the principal classes of executions, and the total amount of fees under the Act :—

The number of local Courts in Ireland is very limited since the abolition of the manor courts in 1859 by Stat. 22 Vic., c. 14. The local courts still existing are the Lord Mayor's Court in Dublin, and the Courts of Conscience, where these jurisdictions were preserved by the Irish Municipal Corporation Reform Act in 1840. Returns have been received from six of these courts in both 1865 and 1864, and the following summary shows the comparative business in both years.

This table shows a large decrease in the business of most of the local Courts. No return has been received from the Court of Conscience of Clonmel either in 1865 or 1864.

High Court of Chancery.

(Tables 1-13,
pp. 191, 195).

The High Court of Chancery in Ireland was founded so far back as the reign of King John, on the model of the Court of Chancery in England, and until the year 1828 the practice and procedure of the two courts were very similar.

The different measures of Chancery reform which have been introduced in recent years in the two countries have led to considerable differences in the practice and procedure in the two courts, which are fully detailed in the First Report of the English and Irish Law and Chancery Commission made in 1863.

In consequence of these differences it has been found necessary to frame forms of return suited to the Irish court, which differ considerably from the forms used in the English statistics.

Very complete returns have been received from the officers of the court.

Business in Court before Lord Chancellor, Master of Rolls, and Masters.

The following summary gives a comparative view of the Court business in Chancery for the years 1865 and 1864 :—

It appears from this summary that there was an increase in the court business in 1865 as compared with 1864.

Registrars' Office
(Table 1, p. 191).

The business in the office of the Registrars of the Court of Chancery, as distinguished from the court business, is shown for 1865 and 1864 in the following summary :—

The proceedings in the office of the Lord Chancellor's Secretary are shown by the following summary :—

HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

Lord Chancellor's

(Table 2, p. 191).

LORD CHANCELLOR'S SECRETARY'S OFFICE.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.

For hearing,	472	497	—	25
Total orders,	908	912	—	4
Warrants as to Magistrates' Commissions,	153	128	25	—

It appears from the above summary that there was an increase in minor and lunacy matters, in orders and in warrants as to Magistrates' commissions, and a decrease in petitions in other matters. The returns for 1865 show that the number of distinct minor-matters or families of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 362 in 1864, to 394 in 1865; and that the number of individual minors who are wards of Court increased from 728 in 1864, to 819 in 1865.

In the office of Secretary to the Master of the Rolls the number of petitions was only 285, as compared with 329 in 1864, showing a decrease of 44.

In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a remarkable increase of business, from 912 proceedings in 1864, to 1,938 in 1865.

The business in the offices of the Four Masters in Chancery, in addition to the hearing of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Irish Chancery Regulation Act of 1850, is indicated by the following summary :—

Masters' Offices
(Table 4, p. 192).

MASTERS' OFFICES.	Three Masters.	Receiver Master.	Total, 1865.	Total, 1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.

Sales of estates under order of Court, . . .	16	—	16	17	—	1
Statements of facts as to management of property,	118	144	262	293	—	31

The returns also show the number of summonses on references in minor matters, lunacy matters, general cause petitions, &c. As the returns do not seem to have been made on the same principle, a summary is not given of them, but it may be stated that they indicate a great amount of reference business in the Masters' Offices.

The effect of the Landed Estates Court in putting an end to sales under the Court of Chancery is shown by the small number of such sales returned, being only 16 in number.

The number of accounts of Receivers, other than in minor and lunacy matters, 439, show a slight increase on the numbers (427), in 1864, (notwithstanding the statutable restrictions on the appointment of Receivers), indicates that there is still a large quantity of property under the management of the Court of Chancery. This is further indicated by the 262 statements of facts as to the management of such property. The receipts in the accounts filed in the Court of Chancery amounted in 1865 to £846,196 5s. 7d.

HIGH COURT OF

The operation of the rule, for some time in force, of referring receiver cases to the Receiver Master is shown by the number of accounts in his office, 399, being an increase over 374, the number in 1864, whilst the average number in the offices of each of the other three Masters, 85, shows a falling off from the number (89) in 1864.

The fees collected in the Masters' offices amounted for the year ending 30th October, 1865, to £1,777 4s., but this does not include the Chancery Fund duties in lieu of fees, which are imposed chiefly on business in the Masters' offices, and the produce of which is carried to the Consolidated Fund.

Examiner's
Office
(Table 5, p. 192).

One of the differences of practice and procedure between the Courts of Chancery in Ireland and in England is the very small number of witnesses examined before the Examiner in Ireland. Thus, there were only 43 witnesses examined in 1865, and the fees amounted to only £59 13s. This was, however, an increase on the number of witnesses (27) examined in 1864.

Companies
Winding-up Acts
(Table 6, p. 193).

Under the Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Acts there was, it appears, only one case in the Court, namely, the Tipperary Bank, which has been under the Act since 17th March, 1856. There is, in this case, £17,706 0s. 9d. available for distribution.

Rolls Office
(Table 7, p. 193).

In the Pleadings department of the Office of the Deputy Keeper of the Rolls the business, as compared with 1864, was as follows :—

ROLLS OFFICE—PLEADINGS DEPARTMENT.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Bills,	—	1	—	1
Cause petitions,	694	575	119	—
Answering affidavits,	218	211	7	—
Interrogatories and answers thereto,	1	4	—	3
Amendments,	67	71	—	4
Suggestions,	29	23	6	—

It appears from this summary that there was a great increase in the number of cause petitions from 575 in 1864, to 694 in 1865. As the numbers in 1864 were much below the numbers in 1863, there is only a slight increase in the two years, the number in 1863 having been 674.

Appearances and Writs office
(Table 8, p. 193).

In the office of the Clerk of Appearances and Writs the number of appearances entered was 658, as compared with 594 in 1864. The following are the numbers of the principal writs issued :—

WRITS IN CHANCERY.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Writs of subpoena,	79	91	—	12
„ attachment,	43	46	—	3
„ scire facias,	—	—	—	—
„ injunction,	38	35	3	—
„ fl. fa.,	5	10	—	5
„ partition,	1	8	—	7

It appears from the foregoing summary that there was a general decrease in the number of writs issued in 1865.

There is a department of this office peculiar to the Irish Court of Chancery, called “The Notice Department,” through which all notices are served, instead of service being proved by affidavit. The number of persons served through this department was 21,912 in 1865, and 21,573 in 1864, showing a slight increase.

Affidavit office
(Table 9, p. 193).

In the Affidavit Office the number of affidavits filed was 4,977, as compared with 5,175 in 1864, showing a decrease of 198.

In the Recognizance Office the number of recognizances filed was 118, as compared with 103 in 1864, showing an increase of 15. HIGH COURT OF CHANCERY.

In the Chancery Taxing Office there has been a reduction in the number of Taxing Masters, the vacancy caused by the death of Master O'Dwyer not being filled up. Recognizance
Office
(Table 10, p. 194).

The following Table shows the business in the office for 1865, as compared with 1864 :— Chancery Taxing
Office
(Table 11, p. 194).

CHANCERY TAXING OFFICE.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Number of orders and references, . . .	988	1,340	—	352
Number of bills taxed,	1,600	1,682	—	82
Number of items,	201,180	204,661	—	3,481
Number of certificates,	1,600	1,682	—	82
Amount of Chancery Fund on summons and certificate,	£ s. d. 2,516 11 4	£ s. d. 2,535 18 0	—	£ s. d. 19 6 8
Amount of costs,	97,890 5 9½	105,640 18 1	—	7,750 12 3½

It appears from this summary that there was a considerable diminution in 1865 in the amount of Chancery costs taxed.

The jurisdiction in lunacy under the Queen's Sign Manual has almost invariably been intrusted to the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the Great Seal in Ireland. The business to be transacted not being sufficient to support an entirely distinct department, it devolves, to a large extent on the ordinary officers of the Court of Chancery, the references and passing of accounts being before one of the Masters in Chancery, and included in the business of the Masters already noticed. Lunacy Office
(Table 12, p. 194).

The petitions again are lodged in the office of the Secretary of the Lord Chancellor, and are returned in the business of his office, whilst the inquisitions are issued from and returned to the Clerk of the Crown and Hanaper, and are included in the business of that office.

The jurisdiction was originally the same in Ireland and in England, but the new practice and procedure, introduced in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, have not yet been extended to Ireland.

The number of orders for commissions of lunacy was 12 in 1865, and 7 in 1864, and the number of lunatics under the care of the Court was 137 in 1865, as compared with 130 in 1864, showing an increase of 7.

In connexion with the small number of lunatics protected by the Court out of the entire number in Ireland, which may be estimated at 16,500,* the difference of jurisdiction between Ireland and England is to be borne in mind. A lunatic cannot be found so in Ireland except by inquisition at a considerable expense, to remunerate Commissioners, Jury, and Sheriff; whilst in England, under the Lunacy Regulation Act of 1853, the Lord Chancellor can dispense with a jury, and authorize a finding under the general commission of the Masters.

The chief business in the Lunacy office was as follows :—

Lunacy Office.

LUNACY OFFICE.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Orders of the Lord Chancellor, . . .	183	167	16	—

* There were in January, 1865, 553 lunatics paid for in private licensed houses, 4,729 in public asylums, 188 maintained by Government, 452 in gaols, and 2,563 in workhouses, making 8,485 publicly treated as insane. The police returns for 1862 estimate that there were besides 8,200 persons reputed insane at large, making in all 16,685.—Vide 14th Report on Lunatic Asylums, Ireland, 1865, p. 7.

Accountant-
General's Office
(Table 13, p. 195).

The return of the Accountant-General shows the payments into the Court of Chancery during the year ended 1st October, and the balance on that day in the books of the office.

	Year ended 1st October, 1865.	Year ended 1st October, 1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Balance at end of year,	4,357,392	4,050,279	307,113	—

These figures indicate a large decrease in the payments into court during the year 1865, but as there was a large increase in 1864, the change in the two years was very slight, payments in 1865 being only £72,912 less than in 1863, whilst the balance at the end of the year increased in both 1864 and 1865, so that there was £547,208 more in court on the 1st of October, 1865, than on the 1st of October, 1863.

LANDED ESTATES
COURT.
(Tables 1-4, p. 195).

The Landed Estates Court possesses several jurisdictions peculiar to Ireland. The first of these is the selling of estates with a Parliamentary title, for which the Incumbered Estates Court was first established in 1849 for a limited time, and after several renewals of its jurisdiction the perpetual jurisdiction of the Landed Estates Court was established in 1858.

The value and rental of the estates sold are indicated by the following summary :—

Amount of purchase-money, . . .	£1,051,992	£1,342,629	£290,637
Net rental of estates sold, . . .	£60,338	£83,300	£22,962
Number of sales,	341	344	3

The petitions for sales relate chiefly, as might be expected, to incumbered estates, the proportion being as follows :—

	Incumbered Estates.	Unincumbered.	Settled.
Petitions for sales, 1865, . . .	432	49	1
„ „ 1864, . . .	429	43	1
Increase in 1865, . . .	3	6	—

This shows that whilst there was a slight increase in the number of cases, the properties sold must have been smaller, as there was a decrease in the aggregate purchase-money and rentals.

In the other branches of jurisdiction with respect to estates, the proceedings are as follows :—

LANDED ESTATES COURT.	Declaration of Title.	Partitions.	Exchanges.	Intermixed Lands.	Apportion- ments of Rent.
1865,	4	6	2	—	1
1864,	13	11	4	5	2
Decrease in 1865, . . .	9	5	2	5	1

Several new tables have been given as to the proceedings of the Landed Estates Court for 1865, which were not included in the volume for 1864. They indicate the extent of the business of the Court in a form comparable to the returns received from the Court of Chancery.

It appears from these Tables that the number of petitions filed was 518, whilst in the Court of Chancery the number of petitions to the Lord Chancellor was 910, and the number of cause petitions under the 15th section of the Chancery Regulation Act was set down as 475, and the number of general cause petitions set down in Chancery during the year was 214.

Again, the amount of costs taxed and certified in the Landed Estates Court was £42,407, whilst the costs taxed in Chancery in the same year were £97,890.

The number of affidavits filed in the Landed Estates Court was 4,797, whilst the number in the Affidavit Office of the Court of Chancery was 4,977.

Under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860, the Landed Estates Court exercises two jurisdictions—1st. For sanctioning improvements by limited owners, and giving them a charge by way of annuity ; and 2nd. For sanctioning building leases, and leases not within the exact terms of the act or settlement of the particular estate.

There were 2 building leases sanctioned in 1865, and 4 in 1864, and 1 in 1863, or an average of about 2 in each year ; and there was 1 statement as to limited owners' improvements in 1865, but no order charging for such improvements ; and there was none in 1864, and only 1 in 1863.

The jurisdiction of the Court of Probate is similar to that of the Court of Probate in England.

The following is a summary of the leading heads of business of the Court and Principal Registry in 1865 as compared with 1864 :—

COURT OF PROBATE—PRINCIPAL REGISTRY.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.

In the District Registries of the Court of Probate the chief business in 1865 and 1864 was as follows :—

COURT OF PROBATE—DISTRICT REGISTRIES.	1865.	1864.	Increase, 1865.	Decrease, 1865.
Granted in Common Form :

Total Amount of Fees received,	5,175 6 10	4,970 5 11	205 0 11	—

It appears from these summaries that the 1,615 probates and administrations granted in the Principal Registry, when added to the 1,487 granted in the District Registries,

COURT OF PROBATE. give a total of 3,102, exactly the same total number as in 1864, showing that the business of the Court is constant. The number of causes in court (104) shows an increase of 1 on the preceding year, whilst the number of causes tried (42) shows a decrease of 6. (Table 2, p. 196).

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland is also Accountant-General of the Court of Probate. It appears, however, that there were only 3 accounts open on the 1st October, 1865, and only £202 13s. 6d. paid into Court during the year.

From a return obtained from the Comptroller of Stamp Duties, Inland Revenue, Dublin, it appears that the amount of property under which probates and administrations were sworn in Ireland in 1865, was £4,877,810, and the amount of duty received thereon in the year 1865, was £95,056.

ECCLIASTICAL COURTS.

(Tables 1-2, pp. 197, 198).

The Ecclesiastical Courts and Registries Act (Ireland) 1864 (27 & 28 Vic., c. 54), came into operation on the 16th September, 1865. The proceedings in the 27 Diocesan Courts and 1 Exempt Jurisdiction, from the 1st January till the 15th September, 1865, are given in Table No. 1, and the proceedings in the 11 united Diocesan Courts created by the Act, from 16th September, 1865, till 25th March, 1866, are given in Table No. 2. The proceedings in both periods are compared with the proceedings in 1864 in the following summary:—

ECCLIASTICAL JURISDICTION IN OTHER THAN MATRIMONIAL CAUSES.	In 11 United Diocesan Courts.	In 27 Diocesan Courts, and 1 Exempt Jurisdiction.
	6½ Months. 3½ in 1865. 2½ „ 1866.	8½ Months. 1865.	1864

For removing a Body,	—	2	2
For other objects,	4	6	2
Total,	14	31	38
Total Amount of Court Fees,	£132	£90	£166

It appears from this table that there is little change in the number of causes other than matrimonial since the union of the courts in the year 1865, there being only 30 causes in the 6½ months ending 25th March, 1866, as compared with 52 in the entire of 1864, giving an average for the 11 united Diocesan Courts which made returns of about 5 causes for each Court in the year.

The change in practice and procedure introduced under the Ecclesiastical Courts Registries Act does not appear to have had in the first 6½ months any material affect on the number of divorce and matrimonial causes.

The petitions for divorce in the 11 united Diocesan Courts which made returns being 3 in the six months, and quarter ended 25th March, 1866, and the petitions for alimony 2.

In 1864 the libels for divorce were 3, and the petitions for alimony 1.

The history of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland is given in the Report of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland Commission, made in 1864.

HIGH COURT OF ADMIRALTY.

It appears that "the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty had its origin in Ireland as in England, in the authority of the Admiral, of whom the Judge was the deputy." There were distinct Admirals for Ireland as early as 1414.

The present constitution of the High Court of Admiralty in Ireland depends upon an Act of the Irish Parliament, passed in the Session 1783-84 (23 & 24 Geo. III., c. 14), and upon the 8th Article of the Union (39 & 40 Geo. III., c. 67).

Up to 1829 the jurisdiction of the Court of Admiralty in Ireland and in England in civil and maritime causes was in all essential respects the same; but the reforms introduced in England by various Acts since that time have not been extended to Ireland.

Returns were made by the Registrar and Marshal as to the business of the Court in 1863, and published in the Judicial Statistics for that year. No return has been made by the Registrar and Marshal of the business in 1864, nor by the Registrar or late Marshal of the business in 1865, but the forms of return required from these officers are given. An account of the business for five years ended 31st December, 1863, is given in the Report of the Commission already referred to.

(Forms of Return,
pp. 199, 200).

The jurisdiction in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency in Ireland is different from the jurisdiction in England, being regulated by the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, passed prior to the Bankruptcy Act of 1861, for England and Wales.

BANKRUPTCY AND INSOLVENCY.

The proceedings in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency are shown by the following summaries:—

Insolvency
(Table 2, p. 200).

INSOLVENCY.

This summary shows a remarkable falling off in the number of petitions for adjudication in Bankruptcy, from 180 in 1864, to 104 in 1865. There were 221 persons declared bankrupt in 1864, the number in 1865 being only 149, showing a progressive diminution in the pressure of debt corresponding with the indications already noticed in the proceedings in the Superior Court of Common Law and Courts of Chairmen of Counties and the Courts of Conscience.

Taxation of costs
in insolvency (Tables 1 & 2, p.
200).

The Taxation of Costs in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency was as follows:—

TAXATION OF COSTS.	Amount as furnished.	Deductions on Taxation.	Amount as certified.
Insolvency,	2,663 0 8	463 4 8	2,199 16 0

The Accountant-General of the Court of Chancery in Ireland was appointed Accountant-General in Bankruptcy and in Insolvency under the Irish Bankrupt and Insolvent Act, 1857, Stat. 20 & 21 Vic. c. 60, s. 407. But it appears that in neither 1863, 1864, or 1865 was any account open, nor were any of the funds of the suitors of the court standing to his credit.

There was standing to the credit of the Chief Clerk in Insolvency the following sums, as appears from his return:—

	Cash.	Stock.
To credit of unclaimed dividend account in bankruptcy,	903 12 7½	13,847 15 0

A table has been compiled from the unpublished returns of the Official Assignees to Parliament under the Irish Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, 1857, showing the state of the bankruptcies and insolvencies in the charge of each of the Official Assignees in 1865.

As similar returns were not included in the statistics for 1864, there are no materials for comparing 1865 with 1864 as to this branch of the statistics.

SUPREME COURTS OF APPEAL.

House of Lords
(Table 1, p. 202).

Returns have been received from the different Supreme Courts of Appeal.

There was one appeal from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland presented to the House of Lords in 1865, none having been presented in either 1863 or 1864, and it was returned as effective for hearing at the end of the year.

From the Court of Chancery in Ireland only 1 appeal was presented in 1865, and 4 in 1864. Four judgments were delivered, 1 on a case heard in a previous session, and 3 on cases heard during the session; 1 decree was affirmed, 1 reversed in part, and 2 reversed with directions.

Privy Council,
Ireland
(Table 2, p. 202).

The Privy Council in Ireland has original jurisdiction in some cases under the Church Temporalities Act, and also to hear applications for the prohibition of burials in grounds where their continuance is alleged to be injurious. It has appellate jurisdiction in cases of tithe composition, and of improvement or dilapidation of ecclesiastical residences. The return shows no appeal before the Privy Council in 1864 or in 1865.

The proceedings of the Chancery Appeal Court in 1865 and 1864 are shown in the following table :—

There were 8 remanets at the end of 1864, which were reduced to 4 remanets in 1865. There were 10 cases disposed of, of these, in 5 cases the decision of the Court below was affirmed, in 4 it was reversed, and 1 case was struck out.

The following is a summary of some of the principal results of the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1865 :—

CONCLUSION.

1. There was a large increase in the business of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench.

2. The reforms introduced in 1843, and the practice of the Crown side of the Court of Queen's Bench in England, has not yet been extended to Ireland ; and the Court fees are higher in Ireland than the corresponding fees in England.

3. The reduction in the claims for malicious injuries in the County and City of Dublin, from 11 to 3, is a matter of satisfaction ; but this is more than counterbalanced in the increase in the claims for malicious injuries in the rest of Ireland, from 348 in 1864, to 393 in 1865.

4. In the Consolidated Writ and Seal Office for the three Superior Courts of Common Law the number of writs issued was 15,778 in 1865, being 1,117 less than in 1864, and the number of writs of execution was 4,588 in 1865, being 737 less than in 1864. These figures indicate a great reduction in the pressure for debt.

5. The entire amount recovered on Judgments of different classes in 1865 was £879,003.

6. There was a considerable increase in the amount of business before the full Court in each of the Superior Courts of Common Law.

CONCLUSION.

7. The bills of sale registered were 347, being 10 less than in 1864, and the acknowledgments by married women filed were 453, being 62 less than in 1864.

8. There was a remarkable increase in the number of legacy and succession duty cases, from 7 in 1864 to 53 in 1865.

9. In the Judgments Office there were 4,324 judgments re-registered, being 3,704 more than the number in 1864, this increase arising from 1865 being one of the quinquennial periods for the registration of judgments in existence before 1850, the number re-registered indicating the extent to which judgments are still a security for money in Ireland.

10. The amount of Grand Jury Cess imposed in 1865 by the presentments fiated by the Judges on circuit and by the Court of Queen's Bench in Dublin amounted to £1,010,527, being £46,115 less than the amount of Grand Jury Cess imposed in 1864.

11. In 31 Courts of Chairmen of Counties, including those for the two ridings of Cork, and in the Courts of the three Recorders of Cork, Londonderry, and Galway, the number of decrees in 1865 was 34,280, being 18,244 less than the number in 1864, and 46,035 less than the number in 1863, indicating a still more remarkable diminution in the pressure for debt amongst the poorer classes than is indicated by the diminution already noticed in the number of writs and executions for larger sums in the Superior Courts of Common Law.

12. The proceedings before the local Courts of Conscience show a large decrease in the business in 1865 as compared with 1864.

13. In 1865 there was a remarkable falling off in the number of petitions for adjudication in bankruptcy, the numbers being 211 in 1863, 180 in 1864, and only 104 in 1865. These figures indicate a remarkable diminution in the pressure for debts in 1865.

14. In the Court of Chancery the proceedings before the Lord Chancellor and Master of the Rolls in cause petitions, and before the Masters in Chancery, was 2,179, being an increase of 88, or about 4 per cent. on the proceedings in 1864.

15. The number of minors under the protection of the Court increased from 728 in 1864, to 819 in 1865.

16. In the Crown and Hanaper Office there was a remarkable increase of business from 912 in 1864, to 1,938 in 1865:

17. The number of accounts of receivers other than in minor and lunacy matters was 439, being an increase of 12 on the number in 1864, and indicating that there is a large quantity of landed property under the management of the Court of Chancery, the receipts on the accounts filed amounting to £846,196 in the year.

18. There was only one company being wound up in Chancery under the Winding-up Act, the Tipperary Bank, and in this case there is £17,706 available for distribution.

19. The number of lunatics under the care of the Court of Chancery was 137, being an increase of 7 on the preceding year, 1864; and the incomes of 64 of these lunatics, on the 66 accounts passed before the Masters, amounted to £56,262 in the year.

20. The extended jurisdiction for the care of the property of lunatics, established in England by the Lunacy Regulation Acts of 1853 and 1862, has not yet been extended to Ireland.

21. In the Landed Estates Court the number of sales was 341, and the purchase-money amounted to £1,051,992, showing a slight decrease on the amount realised in the preceding year.

22. The extent of business in the Landed Estates Court, as compared with other Courts, is shown by some new returns obtained for 1865. From one of these it appears that the amount of costs certified was £42,407, while the costs taxed in Chancery in the same year was £97,893.

23. Under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860, there were 2 building leases sanctioned by the Landed Estates Court in 1865, 4 in 1864, and 1 in 1863, or an average of about 2 in each year. There was one statement as to limited owners' improvements in 1865, but no order charging for such improvements.

24. In the Courts of the Chairmen of Counties and Recorders the proceedings under the Tenure and Improvement of Land (Ireland) Act, 1860, for securing tenants' improvements so far as returned in (31 Courts) in 1865 were nil.

25. In the Court of Probate the total number of probates and administrations granted in all the Registries was 3,102, exactly the same number as in 1864.

26. In the Ecclesiastical Courts there has been little change in the number of causes other than matrimonial since the union of the Diocesan Courts in the year 1865, there being only 30 causes in the half year 1865-6 as compared with 52 in 1864, giving an average for the 11 united Diocesan Courts which made returns of about 5 causes for each Court in the year.

27. The changes in practice and procedure in the Ecclesiastical Courts do not appear to have had in the first six months and a quarter any material effect on the divorce and matrimonial causes, the petitions for divorce in 11 Courts being 3 in the six months when the legal business is usually more active, and 1 petition for alimony.

28. With respect to the Supreme Courts of Appeal, there was only one appeal presented to the House of Lords from the Exchequer Chamber in Ireland, and one from the Court of Chancery; there were 52 appeals to the Chancery Appeal Court, being an increase of 23 on the number in 1864; in the Court of Exchequer Chamber there was only 1 memorandum of error, and 5 notices of appeal, and 1 registry appeal, the number of registry appeals in 1864 having been 21; and in the High Court of Delegates there were 4 appeals lodged from the High Court of Admiralty.
